EUROPEAN AID LOOKS BETTER TO CONGRESS

SOVIET OPPOSITION HELPS PUT OVER MARSHALL PLAN

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, July 5 (AP)—Russia's opposition to the Marshall plan for European recovery appears to have strengthened greatly the prospects that Congress will approve the plan and appropriate the billions necessary to put it over.

That is the opinion expressed today by both diplomatic and Congressional authorities. They seemed agreed that all the latest developments here and abroad made the plan look better and better to those House and Senate members who have been highly suspicious of talk that Russia might "cooperate," because they no longer believe in Russia's goodwill.

Foreign Nations Watch

Acceptance of the Marshall plan inside the United States is probably almost as important to European governments as was its acceptance or rejection by Russia. For these governments are now being forced virtually to "choose up sides" between the American-British-French line and the Soviet Union.

Some diplomatic authorities say the Marshall plan probably will provide the most critical test of bi-partisan conduct of foreign policy since Congress passed the British loan program a year ago this month. European envoys watch every shift in the American, and particularly the Congressional, attitude toward the program.

Essentially the plan is to develop an integrated European economy with financial aid from the U. S.

Both President Truman's Charlottesville Independence Day speech, describing as "folly" Soviet opposition to organized European recovery, and new notes to Moscow were then here as having substantially the same effect in terms of public and Congressional opinion.

They serve to outline more sharply the stand taken by Russia and to strengthen on this issue the record being made by the Western powers against Russia. Diplomatic officials said they doubt that Britain and France really expect any change in the Moscow policy because that seems to have unalterably fixed at the Paris conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov threw down a challenge to American leadership throughout the world by threatening with vague retaliatory acts the countries which follow that leadership. Whether this amounts to a Russian declaration of open economic warfare on the West remains to be seen. First indications may come from the visit to Moscow this weekend of Czechoslovak Premier Klement Gottwald and Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk.

If the Kremlin forces economic isolation of Czechoslovakia from the West, despite the country's natural economic leaning in that direction, the split in Europe may be in fact as real as Molotov at Paris threatened it would be.

In such a situation the direct responsibility of the United States is enormous and diplomatic officials

Allegan Farm Accepted By Greta Garbo

Allegan, Mich., July 5 (AP)—Motion picture actress Greta Garbo will accept the $20,000 will to her by an eccentric British-born Allegan county reclusive who died last October without ever having seen her, the administrator for the estate said today.

Mrs. Marjorie Lee Luna, appointed by Probate Judge Irving J. Tucker to settle the estate of Edgar Donne, said she had received from the film star a letter of acceptance which would be filed in court Monday.

Donne, reportedly attracted to the actress from pictures he had seen, left two farms in Allegan county, one of which may be oil-bearing, and an estimated $15,000 in securities in England.

Attorneys for Miss Garbo and a representative of Donne's brother in London had filed appearances in the case previously.

Donne wrote his will in England in 1936. In it he said he was leaving all his property to "Greta Garbo or, if I marry her, to Greta Garbo Donne."

It was not known here what Miss Garbo intended to do with her bequest, but she was said to have been considering a charitable purpose.

CONGRESS AND TRUMAN CLASH

Lawmakers Get Set To Slash Expenses In Final Round

Washington, July 5 (AP)—Congress starts its cleanup round next week with indications pointing to an increase in the controversy, now bordering on open political warfare, between the lawmakers and President Truman on domestic issues.

Ahead in the three weeks before the scheduled July 28 adjournment lies a series of money bills for government departments likely to be pruned far beyond the margin of expenditures the president has called "rock bottom."

Mr. Truman has already taken occasion to criticize congressional cuts in a similar measure, the treasury-postoffice appropriations bill.

The president may get legislation to unify the armed forces in about the time he wants and may receive a presidential succession bill along the lines he recommended. But few other measures marked for congressional approval in the next three weeks seem likely to be pleasing to him.

Expected passage of the Republican-sponsored tax reduction bill, unchanged except to move its effective date ahead six months to January 1, probably will prove another irritant. This would fit in with what lawmakers on both sides of the political fence frankly say are deteriorating relations between the president and Congress.

Democrats are predicting the president will veto the carbon copy tax bill, just as he did the July 1 original, which he said was the "wrong kind of tax reduction at the wrong time."

Congress might pass the $4,000,000,000 reduction bill over his veto but the administration is expected to go all out in the Senate to prevent any such action.

President To Wind Up Leaving Today, Go Back To Work

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Charlottesville, Va., July 5 (AP)—In slacks and a jersey, President Truman loafed about a 210-acre country estate today as he brought his week-end visit to this historic Virginia countryside to a close.

Tomorrow, he returns to Washington to take up again his problems of office, including the appointment of a general counsel and two new members to the National Labor Relations Board, under the Taft-Hartley labor bill.

Today, he had time to commune with nature and play the role of amateur ornithologist as a guest at the estate of Stanley Woodward, state department chief of protocol.

Wearing heavy walking shoes and jauntingly swinging one of his favorite American Legion es, the one he brought back from the 1924 legion convention, he led Woodward and Clark Clifford, his special counsel, on a strenuous hike.

SERMON WILL BE GIVEN BY REV. HUBBARD

SEVEN CHURCHES, THEIR CHOIRS PARTICIPATE

Religious Participation day of the Hawthornland Festival will be observed by Protestants in Escanaba with a sunrise service at the Athletic Field beginning at eight o'clock this morning.

The order of worship, with Rev. Karl Hammar presiding, will be preceded by a prelude by the Escanaba City Band. Call to worship will follow after which the congregation will sing.

Rev. John Anderson will pronounce the invocation after which the choir will sing "Remember Now Thy Creator." Rev. L. R. Lund will deliver the Scripture lesson and the Offertory will be played by the city band.

Rev. J. B. Hubbard, who will be introduced by Rev. James Ward, will preach the sermon "Impossible But True."

After congregational singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," Rev. Karl Hammar will conduct the benediction.

The choir will be directed by Mrs. M. H. Garrard, Jr., and accompanied by Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom. Albert Shomoto will direct the city band and Earle Harris the ushers.

Participating churches for this massed Protestant Sunrise service are the First Methodist, Evangelical Covenant, First Presbyterian, Bethany Lutheran, Immanuel Lutheran, St. Stephen's Episcopal and Central Methodist.

Marine's Young Son Believed Kidnaped At Big Bear, Calif.

Big Bear, Calif., July 5 (AP)—Two-headed Wayne Bowers, 3, has been missing for more than 24 hours from this mile high lake resort and Sheriff James W. Stocker said today there was a strong possibility he was kidnaped.

Sheriff Stocker said two bloodhounds had followed what was believed to be the trail of the lad, son of Marine Master Sgt. Claude M. Bowers, to a point about four miles from the Marine rest camp where the boy and his parents were staying.

"The trail played out along the state highway," Stocker said, "and it looks as if a car might have picked him up."

More than 300 Marines, deploying at five-page intervals, were making a foot by foot search of the entire area, assisted by sheriff's deputies and volunteers.

Wayne, whose father is attached to the Marine base at Barstow, Calif., wandered away from the camp yesterday morning.

Scuffle Is Fatal In Baseball Game; Boy, 15, Questioned

Stockton, Calif., July 5 (AP)—Bill Carey, 15, was booked for investigation today after Leslie Eugene Bowermaster, 17, died following a scuffle at the Elmwood school playground during a baseball game.

Deputy Coroner Walter Champereaux said schoolmates of the two told him that Bowermaster batted a ball which hit Carey, and an argument started. There was a long scuffle, Carey got a stranghold on Bowermaster, released him and struck him. Bowermaster got up, took six steps and dropped dead.

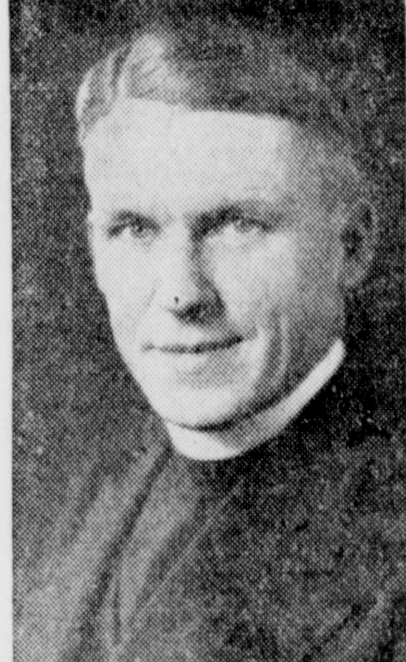

Deputy Champereaux quoted Carey: "Bowermaster called me yellow and hit me across the shoulder with a bat. After that I don't know what happened. He was a good kid. I'm sorry."

Japan Makes Drive On Black Market; Workers Get Raise

Tokyo, July 5 (AP)—Drastic increases in official commodity prices and industrial bonuses, backed by a new 12,000,000,000-yen (officially $240,000,000) subsidy program were ordered by the Japanese government today in an effort to break the black market. Staple foods, coal, railway fare and maritime freight rates were raised as much as 200 percent in some instances, while industrial workers got pay raises averaging 1,800 yen (officially $36) monthly.

WILL CONDUCT OUTDOOR SERVICES—Rev. Joseph L. Zyrd, administrator of the Catholic diocese of Marquette, (left), will be the celebrant at the pontifical field mass at the Escanaba high school stadium 11:30 o'clock this morning, while Rev. John B. Hubbard, (right), pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal church, Park Ridge, Ill., will deliver the sermon at the Protestant sunrise services at the same field 8 o'clock this morning. The public is invited to attend.

REV. GRAHAM TO DELIVER THE SERMON

HOLY NAME MEN OF PENINSULA TO ATTEND

The Diocesan Holy Name rally will get under way at the Escanaba high school stadium at 11:30 o'clock this morning.

Because of the untimely death of Bishop Wagner, the rally will temper some of its pomp and color. It will, nevertheless, afford the Catholic manhood of the Upper Peninsula an opportunity to make a grand manifestation of its faith in and regard for things of God and of the soul.

"It will be a heartening spectacle," said Msgr. Zyrd, Diocesan Director of the Holy Name society, "to see a grand throng of men, assembled to give public evidence of their belief in God, the appreciation of Religion and their reverence for the Divinity of Christ and His Holy Name."

Want All Parishes Represented

Directors of the Rally expressed the hope during the week that all parishes of the Diocese would be represented and advised the pastors that each congregation was to bring its own banner, the American flag, the Papal flag and the Holy Name insignia. The procession before the Mass will start promptly at 11:30 E.S.T. Points of assembly for all delegations is the rear of the stage on the field of the Escanaba Athletic Stadium. All visitors, members of families, will occupy seats in the bleachers.

Knights to Participate

In conjunction with the Rally the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus will hold their quarterly convocation and take part in the program of the day as a Guard of Honor to the Blessed Sacrament. At a luncheon, later in the day, plans will be discussed for the major degree, this to take place in Caspian on Sunday, July 20.

As previously announced, the Mass will be offered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph L. Zyrd, administrator of the Diocese and Diocesan Director of the Holy Name organization. The Very Rev. James Corcoran of Menominee will be the arch-priest and two men of the city, the Rev. Fathers LaViolette and Hughes, will act as Deacon and Subdeacon.

Sigler's Gas Tax Bill Veto Seen As Boost For Keyes

Lansing, Mich., July 5 (AP)—Governor Sigler's veto of the gasoline tax increase bill will bring Lt. Gov. Eugene C. Keyes into the gubernatorial race as his opponent in 1948, Rep. A. P. Decker, Decaturville Republican, predicted today.

Decker, chairman of the House Roads and Bridges committee which handled the gas tax bill in the House, made public copies of a letter he sent the governor.

Describing Sigler as having "slashed your Republican friends outstate, in the face," Decker wrote, "I believe you will find within the 15 months that this action constitutes your colossal political error. I believe that Dr. Eugene C. Keyes will now be your No. 1 opponent next primary. You have given him the best ammunition that a candidate could ask for."

Decker charged that lobbying against the gas tax increase was the greatest since the notorious anti-branch banking bill which led to grand jury indictments on charges of bribery. He said the lobbying came from the petroleum industry which knew it would have to absorb the tax without an increase to consumers.

War Surplus Goods Burned At Detroit; Flames Mount High

Detroit, July 5 (AP)—Flames mounted several hundred feet in the air tonight as fire broke out in a five acre storage yard of the N. Silverstone war surplus supplies store here.

Thousands of packing cases of surplus rubber rafts, boots and other army and navy equipment were destroyed.

Small explosions were heard as fire fighters, pouring water on the stock, reached some magnesium aircraft parts.

The flames were capped by a pillar of smoke seen more than four miles away.

Origin of the blaze was not determined.

Missouri GOP Favors Dewey For 1948 Race

BY HENRY LEADER

Enroute west with Gov. Dewey, July 5 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York received assurances from Missouri Republican leaders tonight that he would have the solid support of the state's delegates in his expected bid for the GOP presidential nomination next year.

Barak T. Mattingly, National Republican committeeman from Missouri, said after he and other Republican leaders of the state had conferred with Dewey in his railroad car, "I told the governor that he would get the state's 33 votes at the national convention in Philadelphia next June." He said he believed he was reflecting the sentiment of Missouri Republicans, based on a recent six-week tour of the state.

Dewey's only comment was "very interesting," Mattingly reported.

The Missouri delegation supported Dewey both the 1940 and 1944 Republican national conventions.

Scenes reminiscent of the 1944 presidential campaign, when Dewey opposed Roosevelt, marked his arrival in St. Louis. More than 300 persons crowded the long railroad platform and fully a hundred of them stopped and shook hands with the governor and his wife as they made their way slowly toward the Union station from the train.

Dewey's four-week trip, which will extend as far west as Salt Lake City, was generally accepted as a step in his unannounced campaign to win the 1948 Republican presidential nomination, but today's announcement was the first that he would meet with a national officer of the party.

AMERICA FEEDS HUNGRY WORLD

Exports Of Food Set All-Time Record In Last 12 Months

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, July 5 (AP)—President Truman reported today that U. S. exports of food to the world's hungry set an all-time record in the past 12 months, and he promised continued American aid.

He indicated in a statement, however, that future assistance will have to be reduced if corn and other summer-grain crops are short. The corn crop has been plagued by a wet, cool spring and by destructive floods.

The president said the United States exported 18,433,000 long tons or about 41,275,000,000 pounds during the year ending June 30.

"This," he said, "is the largest total of food ever shipped from one country in a single year."

The old record of 17,122,000 tons was set by the United States a year ago.

While calling attention to the United States contribution to "human needs abroad," Mr. Truman said "we must not lose sight of the fact that even the great efforts of this and other exporting countries fell short of meeting urgent post-war needs for food."

"Millions of people are still desperately hungry," he said. "Within our ability to share our resources, we will continue to do our part to relieve human suffering and to help other countries to help themselves."

Holiday Tragedies Increase; Michigan Accident Toll 18

(By The Associated Press)

Authorities, facing a death toll that mounts to 18, have themselves today for the most dangerous part of Michigan's extended Fourth of July weekend, the homebound surge of thousands of weary motorists.

While the highway carnage was relatively mild thus far, there was little hope of the state's escaping the holiday windup without further tragedies.

Last weekend, when traffic was relatively thin and fewer persons were away from home, the death toll list reached 31.

Traffic and drownings were the major causes of death among holiday throngs who fled to beaches and resorts to escape heat that remained in the middle 80's Saturday.

The United States Weather Bureau promised thundershowers Saturday night and early Sunday but said skies should clear later in the day.

SOUTHERN PIT OWNERS GIVEN THE BRUSHOFF

NORTHERN MINERS END VACATION TUESDAY

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, July 5 (AP)—A 24-hour hitch in signing of a soft coal peace pact for northern mines developed tonight, while southern operators reported getting "a complete brush-off" from John L. Lewis.

Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, postponed until 2:30 p. m. (E.S.T.) tomorrow a meeting of his 200-member policy committee to ratify the "agreement in principle" which has been reached with the northern employers of 150,000 miners. It calls for a 44½ cent basic hourly increase.

Lewis Ignores Queries

A UMW spokesman said the lawyers "simply haven't got the language of the agreement worked out yet" but prophesied this would not interfere with a resumption of digging in 3,000 northern pits on Tuesday when a 10-day industry-wide vacation ends.

Not so bright was the outlook for southern workings. A member of the Southern Coal Producers Association reported that five unsuccessful attempts have been made to learn from Lewis the proposed terms of the northern contract.

A letter and four telephone calls in the last 48 hours have failed to stir an answer from the miners' leaders, he said, commenting:

"It's a complete brush-off." "The Southern association—far on the outskirts of negotiations since their split with northern owners in December—held a brief meeting, reviewed their lack of progress, and recessed until the northern contract is made public."

Operators Hopeful

One union official indicated that the snag in contract-writing grew out of the new provisions of the Taft-Hartley act. Lewis has asked a clause providing the miners will work when "willing and able" in order to avoid Taft-Hartley penalties for unauthorized stoppages.

If a final wording is agreed upon tomorrow, however, chances are good that most mid-western miners will join Tuesday's back-to-the-pits parade. This would swell the working ranks to more than 200,000, or more than half of UMW's membership.

George F. Campbell, president of the Illinois Coal Operators association, voiced strong hope that his state's 28 mining companies would resume operations. He told a reporter:

"Unless the northern contract is worse than its advance notices—and that's bad enough—I expect to sign in behalf of Illinois producers."

certainly hope to see the Illinois mines reopened on Tuesday.

OLSON GOES ON TRIAL MONDAY

Youth, 17, Charged With 13 Counts Including Breaking Jail

Vernal LeRoy Olson, 17, Monday will be arraigned before Judge Frank A. Bell in circuit court on 13 charges including breaking out of the Delta county jail.

Five of the 13 charges are for unlawfully driving away automobiles; seven are for breaking and entering Escanaba shops and business places; and one charge of escaping from jail. Olson escaped by sawing his way through bars in his cell door, and was recaptured five days later.

Harry Boak, 27, of Charlevoix, is to be arraigned on two charges. One is a charge of illegitimacy, and the other a charge of aiding Olson in his escape from jail. It is charged that Boak supplied Olson with a hacksaw blade. Olson confessed that he waited in the vicinity of Escanaba because he and Boak planned to go to Charlevoix together.

George Shields, 25, of St. Jacques, is to be arraigned on a breaking and entering charge in which he and Olson are alleged to have participated.

Other criminal cases for arraignment at the non-jury term are as follows: Jack Bell of Harris, charged with embezzlement; Thomas D. Norden, breaking and entering; Oscar Knutson, indecent liberties; Carl Mosier, appeal from justice court; Edgar Nadeau, unlawfully driving away an automobile; Louis Duval, rape; Roy Johnson, assault with intent to commit rape.

Non-jury civil cases listed on the calendar include:

Associates Discount Corp. vs. Mason C. Meyer; an appeal by Dan Raess and John Angulim from justice court decisions in which no immediate appeal was filed; Joseph Peltier vs. James D. Pryal; Reinhart Ries vs. August Erickson; Maurice P. Billian and Jacob H. Klotz vs. Ben Fineman; Sam Fineman as co-partners of the F. & G. Clothing company; Leslie Kujala vs. Eugene Plouff; and Joseph Richer; Fred W. and Isabelle Beach vs. C. G. Bridges and Paul Schroeder.

Twelve divorce actions are listed among the chancery cases. There is also a petition for a bill of injunction by Gardens of Rest vs. Upper Michigan Power & Light company; and an ejectment sought by Joseph B. Casper, administrator of the estate of Kolman Casper vs. Doris Ralph.

Pioneer's G. I. Flight School Is Recertified

The Pioneer Aviation company of Escanaba is one of 223 G. I. flight training schools in Michigan which have been certified by the Michigan department of aeronautics for renewed contracts with Veterans' Administration for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1947, it was announced yesterday.

Col. Floyd E. Evans, director of the department, said recertification of all G. I. flight schools in Michigan giving instructions to veterans was necessary to re-qualify under new provisions of the official state G. I. flight training curriculum. Michigan is one of few states which license flight schools. Many states require approval from the Civil Aeronautics administration.

The department also has certified 42 ground schools, 38 of them conducted by public schools.

1 INDIAN DEAD; 1 INDIAN HELD

Party At Reservation
Being Investigated;
Other Mishaps

Daniel Megenuph, about 57, Indian, of the Indian reservation at Harris, is in the morgue at the Boyle Funeral home at Bark River and Levi Sagitau, 38, Indian, Harris, is being held by police authorities pending a negligent homicide investigation. Harold McCullough, 18, Indian, also is being detained as a material witness.

Officers report Sagitau has admitted striking Megenuph with an automobile he was driving. The accident occurred Friday morning about 3 a. m., as a party was in progress at the Andy Philemon home on the reservation. Megenuph had just left the party and had reached the roadway which runs in front of the Philemon home when struck and dragged by an auto. He was carried into the home again and futile efforts made to obtain a doctor. He died in the home. Several hours elapsed before authorities were notified.

McCullough told officers he witnessed some of the happenings about the Philemon home including a fight between women, and then he helped carry the injured man into the home.

State police, Menominee County Deputy Sheriff Vescolani, of Hermansville, and Coroner Robert Dean, of Stephenson, investigated the fatality.

A post mortem was conducted yesterday at the Boyle parlors by Dr. K. C. Kerwell, of Stephenson, who indicated Megenuph's death was caused by a heart attack.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Philemon of Harris, a brother, Archie Megenuph of Harris, and three half-brothers, Andrew and Richard Philemon of Harris and William Philemon of Lac du Flambeau, Wis., and a half-sister Mrs. Jacob McCullough of Harris.

The body was taken to Boyle funeral home and will be taken to the First Presbyterian church in Hannanville from noon until the funeral at 3:30 p. m. Services will be conducted by Rev. Ervin Hansen with burial in the church cemetery.

Jack Sangrew of Manistique received hospital treatment for injuries suffered in another accident during the holiday period. Sangrew was taken to St. Francis hospital for treatment of injuries to his neck and bruises. He was released after treatment.

In minor accidents in which no one was injured, a car driven by Henry O. Miller of Grand Haven was damaged at midnight July 4 when a Delta Transit bus swung back too quickly in passing, sheriff's officers reported. The accident happened near the old Chemical plant location.

VISITORS WIN ARCHERY MEET

Bow-and-Arrow Devotees
Compete Today At
New Field Range

Before a large crowd of sportsmen and visiting Indians a group of 15 amateurs participated in an archery meet at the municipal dock Friday afternoon. George Thompson, of Pine Bluff, Ark., won the men's event and Mrs. Elvie Barnes, of Marinette, Wis., won the women's event. Junior first prize was taken by Bob Johnson.

Archers will compete in field archery at Silver Arrow range at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Second place in the men's match was taken by Frank Aley, Munising, and second women's position was won by Janet Raymond, local archer who picked up a bow for the first time in three years. Junior second place was awarded Richard Noon.

Third places were won by Carl Johnson, Doris Costley and Dick Hengesh. A fourth was awarded in the junior bout and Carl Bennett claimed the stand.

Others who competed were Mrs. J. V. Martin, Maurine Horchner, J. V. Martin, John Aley and Harvey Spade.

Men's first prize was a set of arrows, second a flashlight and hunting knife and third, a medal. The ladies were awarded an ice crusher as first prize, a quiver as second and a medal for third. The junior meet first prize was a set of arrows, second, bow backing; third, a flashlight and fourth a bike padlock.

Coal Boost $1 a Ton?

THE terms of the new coal contract being negotiated by the northern mine operators with John I. Lewis, and the United Mine Workers indicate that the price of coal will be increased on the average of 67c or more per ton. The UMW officials figure the increase at 67c but the operators figure even higher costs, some estimating the increase at $1 a ton.

The progress of negotiations seems to indicate that Lewis has won all of his important demands, yielding on the less important issues. First of all, he appears to have won a 35c hourly wage boost, perhaps the highest pay boost in the history of organized labor. The operators also seem prepared to yield on the demand for an increase in welfare fund royalty payments from 3c to 10c a ton.

The final determination of the negotiations between the northern operators and the United Mine Workers will, of course, set the standard for the rest of the industry. The southern operators have won their point to bargain separately with Lewis but it is a foregone conclusion that the union boss will not jeopardize the gains he has made with the northern mine operators by accepting something less from the southern operators.

The increased coal price will mean that the industry will find even greater competition from other fuels.

Organized Mistrust

ORGANIZED mistrust is leading the world away from peace and unity, President Truman declared in a July 4 address at Charlottesville, Va. The president emphasized that the Soviet refusal to participate in the European economic rehabilitation plan on the grounds that it would mean "interference by some nations in the internal affairs of others" is fallacious.

It is interesting to note that the president listed four requisites for what he called "peace for all time." The Russian government and its Communist ideology fails to recognize any one of these requisites.

For eternal peace, the president said: 1. There must be common adherence to the principle that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. 2. There must be common respect for basic human rights. 3. There must be free and full exchange of knowledge, ideas and information among peoples and maximum freedom in international travel and communications. 4. There must be economic and financial policies which will support a world economy rather than separate nationalistic economies.

It is, of course, our belief in the principles outlined by President Truman and the Russian refusal to accept any of these principles that has made the American-Russian negotiations so difficult and has widened the breach between western democracy and Russian Communism.

It is Russia that is breeding mistrust and leading the world away from peace and unity. President Truman has joined his voice with that of Secretary Marshall in pointing this out to the world, even though neither mentioned the Soviet union by name.

San Francisco's Cable Cars

CITIZENS of San Francisco will decide by vote soon whether or not the famous cable cars operating on its main streets shall be done away with. Mayor Lapham and other city authorities say that the cars are uneconomic, menace to life and limb that have outlived their usefulness. But thousands of San Franciscans shudder at the thought of parting with these picturesque old ruins that have added life and color to the community for decades.

The 1906 earthquake and fire put a partial end to the gaudy procession which once made Market street one of the sights of the country. Green cars, yellow cars, maroon cars, blue cars and cream cars would go booming down Market street to the ferry terminal, there being four or five tracks on that wide and spectacular thoroughfare. Hayes street, Sutter street, McAllister street, Sansome street, Valencia street, Castro street and others shot their clanging cable cars into Market street at its bottom end on the bay, where turntables quickly shunted each car on its right return journey. Endless continuously moving underground cables provided power through grip-irons running in the slots in many streets.

There was a song to the old tune, "Banks of the Washah Far Away," whose chorus started, "Oh, the gripman gripped the grip upon the grip car." The cars were each in two parts—a closed section with parallel seats facing each other, and a "dummy" at each end, roofed over but open on the sides, with seats back to back and facing outward, and two seats facing forward and two rearward. These cars would never do for the north country winters. But then, it's never very cold in San Francisco, and the winters are actually warmer and more pleasant than the summers. Frisco will never be the same to visitors if the cable cars must go. However, no move has been made so far to abolish the great outdoor flower booths at every corner on downtown Market street. Buses can climb the hilly streets as well as cable cars, but if the shouting curb flower masses can remain, there still will be joy in a stroll up Market street, after the rolling fog lifts in the morning.

Community Property

THE community property principle of tax computation, now legal in Michigan and 10 other states of the union, will be included in a general tax revision bill to come before the congress next January. Although the community property principle was rejected during the present session, the unfairness of the present system is now being generously recognized in congress.

Under a bill adopted by the Michigan legislature at the recent session, Michigan has joined the community property states. As a result taxpayers in this state will enjoy the tax benefits that the community property principle entail, whether congress approves the change for the entire nation or not.

In the interests of fairness for all, however, it is obvious that the same tax principles should apply to all taxpayers. In the community property states, a husband and wife may equally divide their income for tax purposes, even though one of them may have no income at all. Taxpayers of other states are not permitted to do so. Adoption of the community property principle by congress will eliminate this inequity.

RUSSIA'S DIVIDING HAND

(Milwaukee Journal)

Once more, and this time probably finally, the Soviet Union has demonstrated its determination to divide Europe, or to rule it all.

The intent has been increasingly clear for many months since the Soviets began to drop the facade of wartime co-operation and to pursue a plan of Communist world revolution conveniently blended with Russian imperialism.

As usual, the Soviets have adopted a theme song completely at variance with the policy they pursue. They refuse to accept Gen. Marshall's concept of help for European countries, because it would "don't gag over the words—interfere in the internal affairs of other countries."

What the Soviets mean, and they have demonstrated it by a consistent policy ever since the end of the war, is that they want no interference in the internal affairs of Europe except by the USSR. And that interference is, if possible, to be total.

The Soviets, despite earlier promises (evidently made merely for purposes of wartime bargaining) have opposed any and all unification of Germany or Europe. They have, meanwhile, absorbed in their area of control as much of eastern Europe as possible. While shouting against the establishment of any blocs in Europe, they have erected a solid bloc of puppet regimes from the Baltic to the Mediterranean. While piously warning against the dangers of setting eastern Europe against western Europe, the Soviets have rushed plans to do exactly that—unless they can win western Europe, too.

They still have such hopes. That is why they immediately make use of the invitation to Paris to try to sabotage the Marshall plan. It was obvious that they would. It was naive to expect anything else, if, indeed, anyone did expect anything else.

SUNDAY ROLL CALL

Salem, Ohio: Please advise a lot of papers that there is no "swipe" in sidewalk.

W. B.: Answer: Sorry, the customary spelling is: sideswipe. The form "sideswipe" is not often seen.

Los Angeles: We are a little confused as to the exact meaning of the term "huckster." Will you please explain?—Mrs. J. W. M.

Answer: Generally speaking, a huckster is a hawk or peddler of small wares, usually one who calls attention by ringing a bell or crying out in the street. By extension, huckster is often used to designate a merchant who sells inferior goods by means of misleading or dishonest methods such as fraudulent advertising.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington — When Attorney General Tom C. Clark appeared before the President's Civil Rights commission in closed session not long ago, he came in for something of a grilling. Members of the commission wanted to know whether the Truman administration did not itself threaten civil rights through the executive order on loyalty among government workers.

Most persistent questioning on this line came from Bishop Francis J. Haas of Grand Rapids, Mich., and from Boris Shishkin of the AFL. They pressed down hard on Clark, demanding to know what right of appeal individual employees would have from the arbitrary action of department and agency heads.

Clark replied, as he has to all such queries, that he intends to be sure that the broad powers under the loyalty order are not abused. Bishop Haas, one of the most liberal and courageous churchmen in America, suggested that the order had already contributed to something very much like a witch-hunt in the government.

Clark denied any intention of witch-hunting. He repeated that every effort would be made to safeguard the rights of those suspected of disloyalty. Shishkin pointed to the danger of the precedent which others might misuse.

—WITCH-HUNTING DENIED—

Emphatically Clark denied any intention of witch-hunting. He repeated that every effort would be made to safeguard the rights of those suspected of disloyalty. Shishkin pointed to the danger of the precedent which others might misuse.

Here, once again, is the dilemma of our time. At the root of it is the perverted loyalty of the Communist and the fellow-traveling stooge. Their loyalty is to an ideology opposed to our form of society and our government. Serving that ideology with blind allegiance, they will go to any length to do the bidding of the bosses of Communism.

Now no one, except the members of the House Un-American Activities committee who tremble at shadows, believes that many individuals of questionable loyalty have infiltrated into our government. But no one can doubt that there have been some. Their very presence, even though they may have done a minimum of harm to national security, has raised a cloud of suspicion.

The other day, the state department announced dismissal of ten employees whose loyalty was in question. They were summarily dismissed under the McCarran rider to the state department appropriation bill. Under the terms of that rider, they have no right of appeal.

Here is the danger and it is a serious one. By this procedure the individual is prejudged and found guilty without appeal.

In at least two recent instances, it has been proposed in the senate that the FBI be given the right to pass on all new employees of a particular bureau. That would in effect be giving to a police agency the supreme power of government. It would be a long step in the direction of the police state.

—LIBERTY ENDANGERED—

The deeply troubling thought in the minds of many men is that, in scourging the few who are disloyal, we may endanger the whole structure of liberty on which our free society depends. In this there is a terrible irony. In combating Communism we can get the very kind of totalitarian controls on which Communism inevitably rests.

The President's Civil Rights commission has made a well intentioned move to point up the dangers in this troubled time and the need for further safeguards in law. Public hearings were held. A digest of the hearings was used in an effective nationwide broadcast.

Various subcommittees are now studying special phases of the civil rights problem. A wealth of data is being compiled on discrimination in employment with the end of the war. This will be helpful in giving a push to the new fair employment practices bill recently introduced in Congress under the sponsorship of both Republicans and Democrats.

Shortly the commission will begin putting together the over-all report. A lively discussion is certain on whether it should include a warning on the approach of the Truman administration to the loyalty investigation. It is, of course, a presidential commission and the final form of the report will be determined by the White House.

The effectiveness of turning over a major problem to a commission of public-spirited citizens is open to question. The members of the civil rights commission all have compelling outside interests, which means that they can give, at most, only part time to the inquiry. The chairman is Charles E. Wilson of General Electric.

With Congress in the midst of a chaotic rush to get out, no new legislation is likely. We may wake up one day to discover that civil liberties are not just a spare-time preoccupation.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE—The other evening at the Escanaba athletic field while the Hiawathaland Saga was in rehearsal, we heard the narrators (there are four of them altogether) pronouncing Hiawatha in two different ways.

And sometimes their pronunciation of the name of the legendary Indian hero changed from one time to the next.

This is not written in a critical sense, for (as Colby might say) usage makes for acceptance, and Hiawatha is pronounced in two ways variously by a large number of our people. Some say hi-a-wah-thah with the accent on the third syllable; and some say he-a-wah-thah with the accent on the first syllable. Whichever way you pronounce it, you will find you are supported by dictionaries, both abridged and unabridged, and by other language authorities.

THE SEARCH—Mrs. Cornelia M. Jensen, 1716 South 14th street, Escanaba, long interested in the history of this community and of the Land of Hiawatha, made a determined effort to discover whether there was a correct or a preferred pronunciation of the name Hiawatha. Mrs. Jensen is a member of the history committee that assisted in compiling information upon which the historic episodes of the Hiawathaland Saga are based.

During the meetings of the committee and afterward she heard the two pronunciations of Hiawatha, and decided that if there was a correct pronunciation it should be known locally for the benefit of those who have said Hiawatha and Hiawathaland hundreds of times within the past few weeks. She wrote to various sources for information, and the following are some of the replies she received.

THE OSBORNS—Chase S. Osborn and his adopted daughter, Stellanova, authors of the authoritative "Schoolcraft-Longfellow-Hiawatha" book, wrote Mrs. Jensen:

"In Houghton Mifflin's edition for schools, there is a note by Longfellow's daughter that he pronounced it He-aw-tha."

"However, Webster's Unabridged gives Hi-aw-tha preference, for sound reasons which you may read for yourself."

"You will be safe following Webster's. Besides being etymologically correct, Hiawatha is the pronunciation that the great majority likes most."

GEORGE BISHOP—George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula (Land of Hiawatha) Development Bureau, writes:

"I am inclined to believe that Hiawatha is correct sounded with a long e."

"However, if you want to get more of the history from authoritative sources on this matter I suggest you write Stanley Newton, Sault Ste. Marie."

STANLEY NEWTON—From Mr. Newton:

"He-a-wath-a is definitely the correct pronunciation, as Longfellow's daughter stated in the second edition. The poet himself never used any other."

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Honolulu—The navy tonight ordered the powerful aircraft carrier Lexington and 54 fighting planes to "stand by" for orders to reinforce the faltering hunt for Amelia Earhart, lost nearly 36 hours in the shark-infested mid-Pacific with her navigator, Fred Noonan, in her $80,000 plane.

Highways, trains and ferries throughout Michigan were jammed Saturday night as city dwellers pushed their way to vacation areas for the Fourth of July celebration.

With ideal weather prevailing, Gladstone's Golden Jubilee and Homecoming got off to a good start yesterday. The celebration, which commemorates the 50th anniversary of the founding of the city, continues today and Monday.

High school and independent vocal organizations from every city in the Upper Peninsula are expected to participate in the Upper Peninsula State Fair vocal festival contest which will be held Sunday evening, August 15, in connection with the regular night show at the fairgrounds in Escanaba.

Lansing—In a stormy meeting of the state conservation commission today the season on rabbits was shortened, more stringent protective rules for squirrels were adapted and it was decided legal steps will be taken if necessary to compel the Detroit Reduction company to comply with the anti-pollution order.

Geneva, Switzerland—Suddenly intervening in the Anglo-American difficulty over cruiser tonnage, Japan tonight not only supported the American contention for a low limitation, but insisted that world interests would be best served by adhering to the original minimum figures of the United States of 250,000 tons.

Washington—The speed with which America is taking to the air was illustrated today by a commerce department estimate that 2,059 civilian pilots are seeking licenses to operate, while in addition, 1,579 applications to license planes and 1,925 applications to license air mechanics are pending or have been granted.

vised Mrs. Jensen:

"We find that both Webster's dictionary and the Encyclopedia Americana state the long 'i' preferred in the name Hiawatha. We have called several professors, asking them their opinion in the matter and they all seem to think that the long 'i' is perfectly correct."

MRS. JENSEN—When Mrs. Jensen gave us the information she had received, we asked her how she thought Hiawatha should be pronounced.

"I would favor He-a-wah-thah," she said. "The only long 'i' in any Indian name I know is Winona, and that may have been corrupted in the English version."

THE WORLD BOOK—Referring to the World Book Encyclopedia we found:

"Hiawatha — hi-a-wah-thah, sometimes pronounced he-a-wah-thah."

REGINALD LAUBIN — Mr. Laubin is the professional "Indian" dancer appearing nightly in the Hiawathaland Saga at Escanaba with his wife, Gladys. The Laubins and Milford G. The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—The disastrous floods along the Missouri and Mississippi rivers were very much on his mind as Senator Jim Murray of Montana, with Ben Stong of Denver, Colorado, chairman of the regional Missouri River Association, called at the White House last week.

After introducing Stong to the President, the Montana senator proposed to Truman that he send a message to Congress restating his support for a Missouri Valley authority in connection with the present floods.

"Here is an ideal time to restate your support of MVA in the strongest possible terms," said Murray, who was the original author of MVA. "A strong statement from you now would mean added hope for the people who are today suffering millions of dollars' loss because of the floods."

"You're perfectly right, Jim," the President replied. "I'm still for an MVA, but I don't see how we can do anything with the present congress. I just can't see this congress approving that or a Columbia Valley authority when we both know that if they had their way they'd even kill off TVA (the Tennessee Valley Authority)."

"That's probably true," Murray admitted. "But the fact is that there could be no more opportune time for a strong message from you making it clear that the administration is anxious to go ahead with a program designed not only to prevent repetition of the flood damage of this spring and summer but also to develop the industrial and agricultural resources of the Missouri basin."

The President promised to think over Murray's proposal, but refused to commit himself definitely.

—THE LADY FROM NEW YORK—

Mississippi's Rootin'-Tootin' Rep. John Rankin isn't having as much influence over Republican congressmen as last year, though some still look upon Rankin as their close friend and virtual leader. One exception is efficient Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, Massachusetts Republican, whose battles with Rankin over veterans committee matters have been cloakroom gossip for years.

Mrs. Rogers was sitting next to Mrs. Katharine St. George, protégée of ex-Congressman Hamilton Fish, when the house voted on an amendment by Rankin providing for immediate authorization for the Tombigbee Canal, a project dear to the Rankin heart.

Congresswoman St. George arose to support the amendment, which most Republicans opposed. It was defeated.

"Why do you vote for that Rankin amendment?" Mrs. Rogers asked her New York colleague when Mrs. St. George sat down.

"Oh, he's such a nice old man," replied the lady who replaced Ham Fish, apparently completely unaware of the Rankin-Rogers feud. "You know, he told me one day I look just like his daughter."

—MARSHALL ON PALESTINE—

Secretary of State George Marshall has already learned that not all members of congress are statesmen. Last week he learned that at least one member is no diplomat, even though a conscientious and valuable member of the house.

Marshall was visited by Senators Jim Murray of Montana, Lister Hill of Alabama, Glen Taylor of Idaho, Ed Johnson of Colorado, Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Claude Pepper of Florida, Frank Myers of Pennsylvania, and blunt-spoken Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York—the non-diplomat. The senators were worried about the Palestine situation, and wanted assurance from Marshall regarding the United States' position.

Marshall assured his callers that this country would not alter "its traditional policy" on the Palestine question, whereupon Senator Pepper interposed:

"Mr. Secretary, we are concerned not about the on-the-record policy of the United States, but rather by our long history of failing to implement our official statements."

Again Marshall said he saw no likelihood of any change in our policy but insisted that the United States could do nothing until the recommendations of the United Nations commission now in Palestine were filed. "Then we will come to grips with the problem in the light of those recommendations," he said.

Perhaps recalling that half his callers had opposed the Greek-Turkish aid plan on the ground that it by-passed the United Nations, Marshall added, "I'm sure you gentlemen understand the importance of our taking no step which would be interpreted abroad as an affront to the United Nations."

Assured by Murray, who had arranged the conference, that all agreed on that point, Marshall nodded his head and said earnestly:

"I want you gentlemen to know that I am terribly anxious to see a solution to the Palestine problem. We must achieve an acceptable plan—and it must be a plan which will work. No plan is of any value unless it will work."

Fourth Of July Parade Outstanding; Hundreds Hear Gov. Kim Sigler

Thousands of people packed Escanaba's Ludington street on the Fourth of July to view the biggest parade in the city's history and to hear and see Gov. Kim Sigler who flew to Escanaba especially for the event.

"I wish the people of Michigan could see what I have observed in the two hours since I arrived by plane," Gov. Sigler said in a radio broadcast from the parade reviewing stand. "Thousands of people are lining the street, and the floats in the parade are most remarkable, in my humble opinion."

NAME PRIZE FLOATS

After expressing their appreciation to all of the float sponsors, the judges yesterday announced their decisions of the prize winners. Their selection was based on appropriateness, interest and beauty.

1—Escanaba Paper company for its float symbolizing efforts for world peace, $100.
2—Michigan Conservation Department, appropriate to the area, with an educational message, $75.
3—U. P. State Fair. The float depicted the agricultural resources of the area, the entertainment and educational features of the fair, $50.
4—Delta Hardware company, depicting the land of Hiawatha, $50.
5—Northwest Fruit company, $15.
6—The Escanaba chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America, $10.

The parade was a moving pageant of color, beauty and music—a three-mile-long procession. Perfect summer weather that followed a threat of rain earlier in the morning favored the gala occasion.

Gov. Sigler Pleased

Gov. Sigler led the parade and in other cars were members of the city council, officials of the Chamber of Commerce and other dignitaries. At the reviewing stand on Ludington street at the Municipal dock they watched the parade pass and the Governor then delivered his address.

George Lindenthal, Chamber of Commerce president, introduced the Governor, who described the scene before him and his pleasure in being a participant in the celebration.

"I wish that you could observe this view with me," he told his radio audience. "No place on earth is comparable with this vacationland—anywhere. Before me at the dock is the good ship Mackinac, and farther out in the bay are two great freighters, one moving out loaded with iron ore, the other coming in empty."

Leader In Peace

The Governor told of his recent participation in the dedication of an international airport near Sault Ste. Marie, and pointed out that Canada and the United States have been at peace for many years.

"America must lead the world in thought because she is a peaceful nation," he declared. "The United States exemplifies the desires and wishes of the people of the world."

Gov. Sigler praised the community for its sponsorship of the Hiawathaland festival and said that "those in charge can indeed be proud" of the success of the event. He pointed out that last year the tourist business in the state totaled $450,000,000 and that in the future it would probably be doubled.

"I have observed the friendliness and hospitality of your people here, their warmth and friendliness," he said. "You can be certain that people like to go where they are treated kindly."

Parade Outstanding

The parade floats were clever in theme, intricate in design and beautiful in coloring. It would be hard to single out any one but particularly lovely were those carrying Jean Farrell, Hiawathaland Queen, Shirley Baker, Miss Escanaba and their courts and other festival queens.

Outstanding, too, were those utilizing the natural resources of the land, its pine trees, its flowers and its wild life. There were Indian scenes, authentic in detail and striking in coloring, the Gladstone birlers, among them Billy Girard, the barber-shop quartet, a four-foot firecracker, a bear cub and a graceful fawn, these on the conservation department float, cows and farmers, Indians and queens, fire trucks and ponies, a surrey and a bicycle built for two.

Among the marching units were the American Legion, the Coast Guard from the Mackinaw which was docked here during the day, State police, the Escanaba city band, Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, and the snappy Indianettes.

Many Other Events

All in all it was a beautiful and stirring sight and a tribute to the man who started planning for it months ago and who supervised its every detail, Fred Johnson.

In addition to the parade there were many other features of the Fourth of July program that entertained thousands of visitors during the day. Besides enjoying the program, visitors spread picnic lunches in the park, went swimming at the municipal beach, and went sightseeing around the waterfront where many visiting yachts from Lake Michigan ports participated in sailing races.

Other events of day included an exhibition of water skiing and surfboard riding, Indian powwows, skilled archery demonstra-

Joyce Fillis,
Joseph Bushey
Nuptials Read

At an eight-o'clock nuptial mass yesterday morning at St. Joseph church, Miss Joyce Fillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Fillis of 218 North 13th street, was united in holy matrimony to Joseph Bushey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Bushey of 1408 North 13th street, with Rev. Fr. Alphonse, O. F. M., officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Music for the wedding was by Miss Eva Cosset, church organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white satin with lace inserts, a sweetheart neckline, leg o'mutton sleeves coming to points at the wrist, and a full skirt ending in a court train. Her veil, worn by her great-aunt at her wedding 45 years ago, was full length and gathered in a crown of seed pearls.

The matron of honor, Helen Derouin, was gowned in pink brocaded satin with a fitted bodice and cap sleeves and carried a bouquet of peonies and snapdragons. The bridesmaids, Miss Donna Fillis, Miss Eileen Kiebusch, and Miss Phyllis Bushey, wore gowns of identical style in pink and blue with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and full skirt. They carried floral bouquets of peonies and snapdragons.

Linda Lou Anderson, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of pink and carried carnations and mums. The rings were carried to the altar on a white satin pillow by Rodney Rousseau.

For her daughter's wedding Miss Fillis wore a two-piece ensemble in blue and white accessories and a corsage of snapdragons and carnations. Mrs. Bushey wore a pale yellow ensemble with crown accessories and a corsage of snapdragons and carnations.

Mr. Bushey was attended by Clifford Derouin as best man. Frank Bushey, William Molloy and Raymond Young ushered.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride and at three in the afternoon a dinner for 75 guests was held in Unity hall.

Cotton Pads Protect
Eyes From Glare

BY ALICIA HART

Don't expose your eyes to out-of-doors glare just for the sake of untanned eyelids. Even closed lids do not provide protection against glare.

You can use a temporary substitute for sunglasses, however, if you want to avoid a goggle-white area in a untanned face. Quite able to pinch-hit for glasses while you are sun-bathing are cotton shields, one placed over each eye. If the shield is thick enough to block out light, the size of the pad needn't be much larger than your eye.

Moisten the pad to make it cling over the eyelid. If pads are moistened with a cooling lotion, says model Betty Underwood, who dips her cotton in witch hazel, the wet shields will give sparklers a beauty treatment while protecting them from glare.

The bride, attended by Mrs. Fred Thorpe of Milwaukee, was attired in a white satin gown and full-length veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and snapdragons. The bridesmaid wore a gown of pink marquisette with a finger-tip veil.

Mr. Wescott was attended as best man by Fred Thorpe of Milwaukee. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father after which the couple left on an extended trip to Madison and other points in Wisconsin.

New Frozen Foods
Made Palatable

By Science Service

Ithaca, N. Y.—You may have orange juice in your sweet potatoes and ice cubes in your gravy one of these days. These are two of the latest frozen food wonders. The wonder will be that you won't know it if you do have these delicacies.

Ice cube gravy and sweet potatoes with orange juice are two developments in a study being made by home economists at Cornell University to help the Navy serve palatable meals from frozen foods.

Ella Gleim and Faith Fenton found that gravy must be frozen rapidly to avoid excessive bacterial growth. The solution to that problem was to put ice cubes in the gravy for rapid chilling.

Mashed sweet potatoes with milk had a gray color, so the home economists used orange juice. After three months in freezer storage, the sweet potatoes still had a fresh flavor and a bright orange color.

The Cornell investigators have discovered some complications in planning meals for freezing and reheating when they are to be served. Foods differ in the rate of heat penetration. Thus a cook reheating a frozen meal with chicken, potatoes and broccoli would find the broccoli cooked by the time the chicken and potatoes were thawed out.

This can be adjusted, the home economists found, by completely cooking the chicken and potatoes before they are frozen.

Tests with temperatures of zero and 15 degrees Fahrenheit showed that the food was acceptable after three months storage at either temperature, but the lower temperature produced the better result. Experiments are now planned at below-zero temperatures.

E. EDICK WINS FLY CASTING

Crowd Sticks To See
Smedley Technique
Exhibit In Rain

Edward Edick won the Hiawathaland fly casting contest staged Saturday morning at the municipal dock, but only after a saw off round of competition with Harry Gaufin. At the end of the regulation ten targets Edick and Gaufin were tied with scores of 66.

In third place was John Edick with 54 and Mrs. Ardyth Schuster and James A. Flaherty were tied at 52 for fourth. Following are the scores of the other contestants through tenth place: Les Johnson, 49; Gust Soderberg, 48; Mel Roberts, 45; Jack Edick, 30; Guy Knutson, 26 and Lyle Shaw, 13.

Winners in the bait casting contest were Ken Murray first with a score of 70, Guy Knutson second with 34 and Bruce Jessen third with 27.

It was the introduction of local anglers to tournament casting and most scores were chopped down considerably by such penalty faults as kicking the water on false casts and dragging the fly instead of making clean pickups. The scores are made against a possible 100 for a perfect round cast at floating rings on the water at distances of from 20 to 50 feet from the casting platform.

During the afternoon a large crowd stood in a drenching downpour to watch a demonstration of dry fly casting by Harold D. Smedley of Muskegon, who has been crowned national champion in the wet and dry fly tournament competition, the first time in 34 years of the tests that one man has won both crowns.

Smedley demonstrated the technique of such cast as the overhead and backhand side casts, the straight overhead cast, roll cast and snap cast. In an accuracy demonstration he flipped his fly into the target rings in a manner that made the stunt appear deceptively easy. He also broke inflated toy balloons attached to the target rings.

Following both the demonstration and the contest Smedley answered questions and helped local anglers with their problems. He analyzed their casting and offered constructive criticisms designed to improve line handling and fly placing.

COLD WINTER SEEN LIKELY

Coal Strike And Scarcity
Of Fuel Oil Would Be Difficult

BY A. C. MONAHAN

Washington, (SS).—A coal strike now or during the rest of the year, coupled with the growing shortage of fuel oil, would mean uncomfortable homes next winter.

It means also a further delay in the recovery of Europe—and a continued need of American dollars for food for the destitute in the devastated countries.

European recovery depends upon a supply of coal for factory power. European coal mines are as yet far from normal production. America is now sending overseas some 2,500,000 tons of coal a month. It may be years before Europe again can supply its own fuel needs. Without fuel industry is at a standstill. When European labor is again receiving regular wages, the need for American free food will no longer exist.

Present stock piles of coal in the United States are satisfactory under normal conditions. During the year to date some 300,000,000 tons have been mined. This production equals top wartime mining. However, the season is close at hand when northern factories must lay in stockpiles for the winter months and when foresighted home-owners put in their winter supplies.

Not Due to Strikes

The present threatened fuel oil shortage is not a matter of strikes. It is due largely to increased use without new refineries and transport facilities to meet the increased demand. Enough crude oil can be mined to meet the needs of the coming months, but the necessary new refineries will not be ready for many months.

The increased demand for petroleum products is double headed. More automobiles are on the road and they need more gasoline. One automobile manufacturer states that the average car will be driven 1,000 miles farther this year than last. To meet increased demands for gasoline, the petroleum industry is "cracking" crude more closely, which leaves less for fuel oil.

Meanwhile, fuel oil consumption is increasing. Diesel engines are coming into far wider use than formerly. More trucks, tractors, power shovels and buses are diesel-powered. Diesel locomotives are becoming more common. One reason for the increased use of diesels in powerplants is to get away from a fuel shortage due to coal strikes.

During the coming winter many more homes than ever before will want oil for heating. It is estimated that with installations made this year the number of oil-heated homes is 50 per cent greater than in 1945. Makers of equipment are urging installations, but the oil industry is reported to be suggesting a delay because of a possible fuel shortage.

Plentiful In East

Fuel oil for the eastern states may be more plentiful than in the central areas. Transportation to the Atlantic coast area is largely by ocean tankers. To the Midwest, it is largely by pipelines. The eastern supply will depend upon the continuation in service of government-owned tankers operated by private oil companies. The matter rests with the government.

Pipelines to the Midwest from Oklahoma and Texas oil fields, even at full capacity, can not meet the expected demands of the coming months. One Midwestern company has already announced plans to allocate its available gasoline to dealers in proportion to deliveries before this year's increased demand arose.

Railroad transportation could help the Midwest situation if sufficient tank cars were available to handle carloads from oil fields to refineries, and handle also distribution from refineries to the thousands of centers to which petroleum products must now travel by rail.

MUCC Itinerant Service Schedule

A new schedule of itinerant service of the Escanaba office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission for nearby communities was announced yesterday by James M. Damitz, manager.

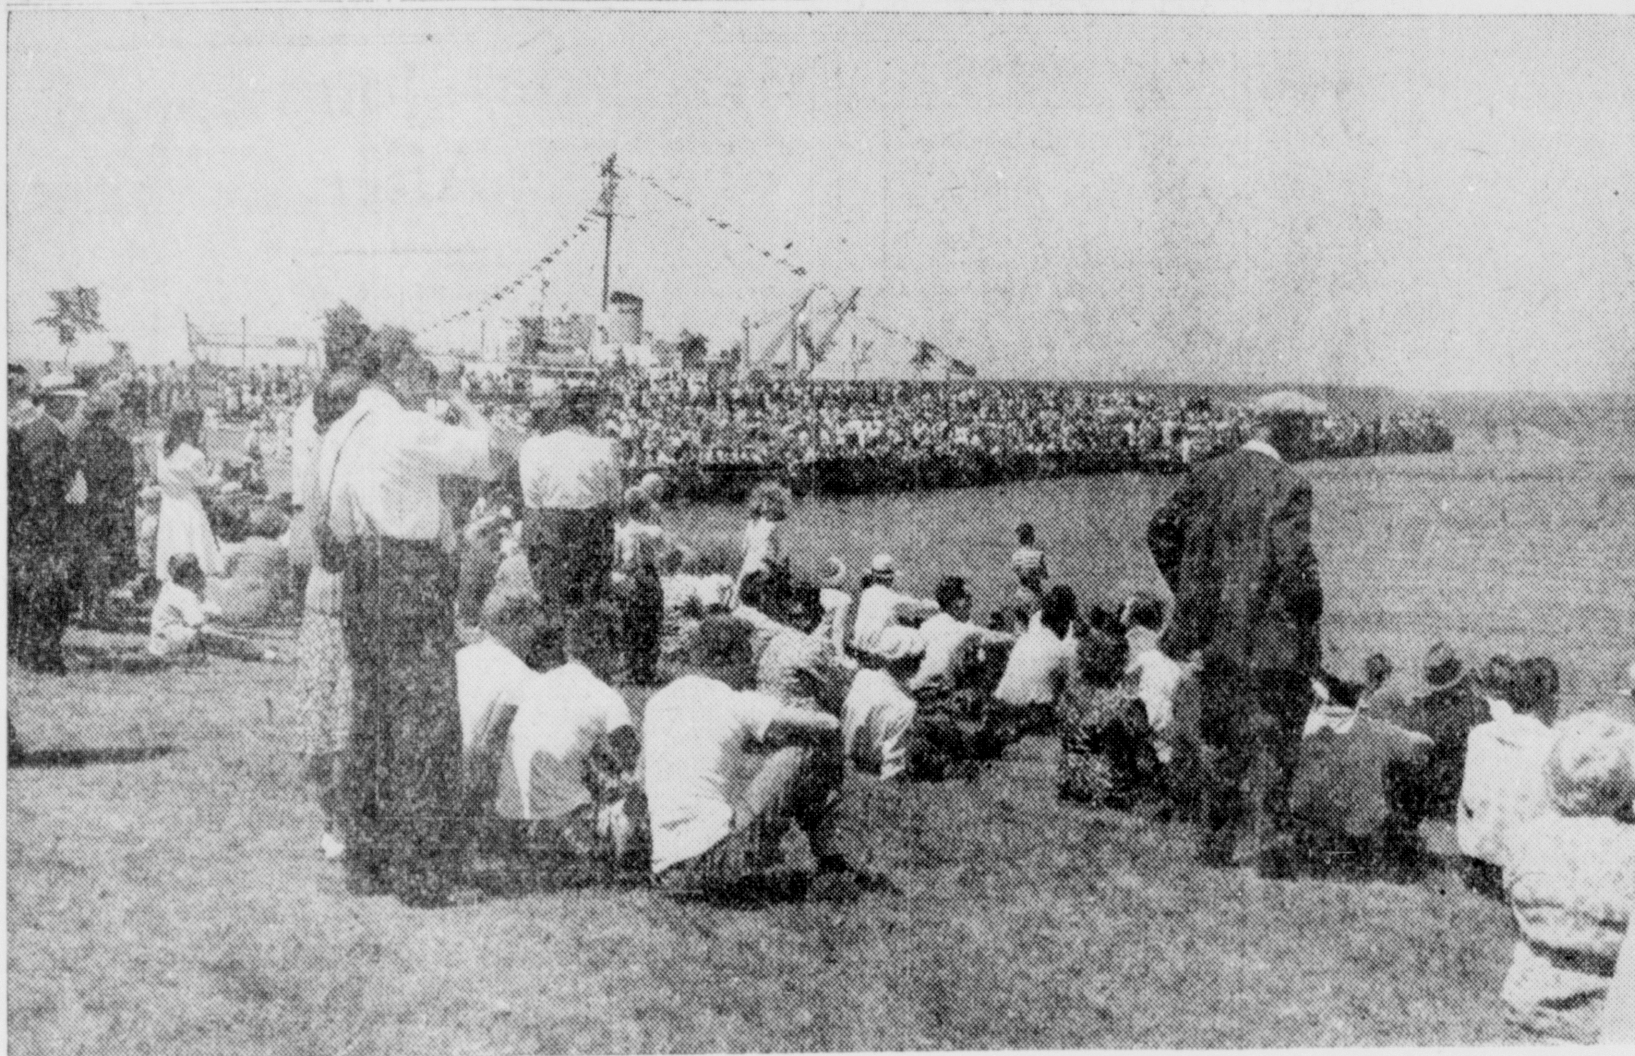

The schedule follows: Rock town hall, every Monday from 9:30 a. m. to 11 a. m.; Gladstone, second floor of the city hall, every Tuesday from 9 a. m. to noon; Manistique, Legion club, rooms, every Thursday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.; Rapid River, high school gymnasium, every Friday from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m.; Garden, Community building, every Friday from 1 p. m. to 2 p. m.; Nahma, club house, every Friday from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Final Allocation Of Millage Is Made To Schools, County

The Delta county tax allocation board in recent meeting set final allocations of millage to the county and to the schools in Escanaba and Gladstone, following a hearing on the tentative rates.

The schools of Escanaba and Gladstone will receive 7.6 mills, the county 7.3 mills, and the cities and villages .1 mill. There was no change from the tentative rate announced previously.

July 9 was set by the commission for its next meeting, when it will set tentative millage rates for the townships and the township schools.

THOUSANDS WATCH WATER SKIING—Chuck Sligh, Jr. and his troupe of 10 national champion water skiers of Holland, Mich., attracted thousands of spectators to the Municipal dock area the afternoon of July 4. Amazing exhibitions of skill and daring, including 50 foot jumps over an elevated ramp that tossed the water "bugs" high in the air, double and triple riding on one and more skis brought appreciative applause. Pictured is the crowd lining the shore and the dock, with the Coast Guard Cutter Mackinaw in the background.

WATER SKIERS THRILL CROWDS—This is the sort of action that thrilled Hiawathaland Festival crowds at the municipal dock Friday and Saturday. In this particular feat, Miss Irene Boer and Bob Sligh start out on two pairs of skis. Irene discards hers, stands in front of Bob and then he hoists her on his shoulders to complete this tricky stunt and form the attractive picture above. It sounds easy, but as the grand old man of water skiing, Chuck Sligh, Jr., said: "Try it some time!"

Escanaba People Use More City Gas With Each Year

The number of gas meters in service in Escanaba and the monthly cubic feet of gas used has been increasing steadily in the past three years, a report from the City Gas Department discloses.

April 1944 to April 1947—64.5 per cent
March 1944 to March 1947—49.5 per cent
Feb. 1944 to Feb. 1947—47.96 per cent.

In April of this year the City of Escanaba recorded 6,527,000 cubic feet of gas utilized as registered on 2,641 meters. In April 1944, 2,204 meters recorded a gas usage of 3,906,000 cubic feet.

From February 1944 to February 1947 the gas usage increased by 1,863,000 cubic feet; from March of 1944 to March 1947 the increase was 2,019,000 cubic feet; and from April of 1944 to April of this year the increase was 2,519,000 cubic feet.

To make the 6,527,000 cubic feet consumed in April, 207.4 tons of coal were used and 17,440 gallons of oil.

Highway Department Control Criticized By Attorney General

Lansing (P).—Attorney General Eugene F. Black's demand for stronger administrative board control over Michigan's Highway Department hung unsettled in the capitol air Wednesday.

Black, attacking the department as operating without a "master plan" known to either the board or the people, proposed to the board that it employ an independent engineer to analyze the highway department's activities and to advise the board when it required to pass on highway projects.

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, who was not at the board meeting when Black launched his proposal, conferred later with Governor Sigler and emerged to tell newsmen "the Governor indicated he had known nothing about it and that the whole matter is going to be dropped."

A few minutes later, Sigler told newsmen "no one is authorized to speak for me. If Mr. Ziegler said that, he made an unauthorized statement. The matter has been presented to the board with a month in which to act on it. That will be done."

Ziegler said "I would prefer not to get involved in any controversy if the matter is going to end here. If it is necessary to defend myself I am prepared to do so."

The highway commissioner declared "my position is about this: 'I am elected by the people to run the highway department and if they don't think I am doing a good job they will elect someone else.'"

"Michigan, the leading automotive and tourist state, isn't, but should be, the first in motor highway transportation," said Black. "The highway department has no state-wide policy or plan known either to the people or the state administrative board. The present administration committed itself last fall to a thorough overhauling of the highway department."

Black proposed that the state administrative board hire its own highway engineer. He charged that the board "is kept in the dark as to plan and policy, if any, and actually rubber stamp contracts and outlays running into millions of dollars each year."

The job of the administrative board highway expert would be, Black said, to "dive into highway department files and plans, advise us what is wheat and what is political chaff in the way of past press statements issued by the highway department and formulate an overall plan to which the administrative board could intelligently apply future highway expenditures."

"I suspect," Black said, "that the purpose of the highway department is to sweeten convention delegates rather than to develop a state-wide construction program."

Chief Deputy Highway Commissioner Harry T. Ward, speaking in the absence of Ziegler, termed Black's statements "absolutely ridiculous."

"Highway information is available to anyone in the state," said Ward. "I think there is something behind this attitude."

National Assembly Of Westminster In Iowa; 1700 Present

Rev. James Bell, Alicemae Davidson and Carl Nelson of this city are participating in the first National Assembly of the Westminster Fellowship at Grinnell college, Grinnell, Iowa, June 30th to July 5.

The assembly, embracing 1500 youth and 200 adults from America and foreign countries, is built around the theme of "Thy Purpose We Share." The assembly will deal with such subjects as the responsibility of young Christians in today's world, this generation of homemakers, how Christians live by faith and what Protestantism has to offer.

The Westminster Fellowship national assembly is one of eight cultural religious and educational conventions which will be held at Grinnell college this year.

Americans spend approximately $4,000,000,000 annually on baseball games, movies, and other forms of recreation.

"We do not spend money at our whim or the whim of any political sub-division. Fifty per cent of the money we spend is federal money and the federal government maintains a competent force of engineers who audit every penny we spend including state and federal expenditures," Ward declared.

Black's proposal for a board engineer was referred to the board's transportation committee composed of Ziegler, State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and Auditor General Murl K. Aten.

Pay-As-You-Watch Television Device Evolved By Zenith

Chicago—(AP)—The first pay-as-you-watch television—a system that would give broadcasters a cash "box office"—was announced Wednesday by the Zenith Radio Corporation.

The principle is called phone vision. Most of the frequencies needed to transmit an image are broadcast by air. The key frequencies can be piped to you over your regular telephone wire—if you pay for the wire-transmitted service.

E. F. McDonald, Jr., president of Zenith, predicted the development would "solve the economic problems" of television and would make possible, without commercials, such entertainment as first-run motion pictures, current news reels and Broadway plays.

Arrangements will be worked out with major film producers, television broadcasters and the telephone company and Zenith soon will go into production of phone vision sets, McDonald said. He estimated the new system would be in operation in from six months to a year in such cities as Chicago, New York, Washington and Los Angeles.

Zenith executives gave a preview of phone vision last night in the corporation's downtown distributors headquarters.

A blurred, vibrating image appeared on the screen of a television receiving set. A telephone call was put through to the Zenith transmitting station eight miles away, where a technician threw a switch connected with the telephone line.

The image then appeared in sharp focus.

Although phone vision is a Zenith development, McDonald said licenses would be granted to all qualified manufacturers who apply. Costs of the sets, he said, should be comparable to present television sets.

Believe Escaped Prisoner Stole Car At Danforth

Sheriff's officers yesterday said they believed a car owned by Frank Chouinard of Danforth was stolen sometime after 10 p. m. July 2 by William Abey, alias William Powers, who escaped on June 19 from the state branch prison honor camp near Marquette.

Officers the morning of July 3 took a photograph of the escaped prisoner to a resident of the Carroll's Corners community who identified it as a likeness of a man he had seen lurking in that vicinity the day the car was stolen.

Company C Guard Unit Goes To Camp Saturday

Members of the Delta county National Guard unit, Company C of the 107th Engineer Combat Battalion, will be among 3,500 officers and enlisted men participating in the first postwar Michigan National Guard encampment at Camp Grayling July 12-26.

Capt. Roy Johnson, company commander, yesterday expressed the hope that all employers of Company C members from Escanaba, Gladstone, Wells and Perkins will permit men to attend camp without sacrificing regular vacation time or pay.

In addition to pay at the regular Army level, enlisted men will be paid $2 a day by the state of Michigan for each of the 15 days at camp. All men will be paid before leaving camp to return to their homes.

Company C participated in the parade here July 4 when Escanabans saw for the first time some of the new equipment recently received by the unit in preparation for field training at Camp Grayling. Included among the recent allotment were a portable air compressor, two six-by-six heavy-duty trucks and trailers and a jeep. The armored scout car and other vehicles in the parade have been here for some time.

Approximately one hundred National Guard units organized during the past ten months will move by train and motor transport from 42 Michigan communities to Grayling. Advance detachments will arrive at Camp

Grayling July 9 to prepare the area for the main body of troops arriving three days later.

Brig-Gen. Ralph A. Loveland of Ann Arbor will be camp commander and will direct the field training schedule. Highlight of the field training will be the parade of the 46th division scheduled for Saturday, July 19, which will be witnessed by the commanding general and his staff and visiting public and military officials.

All troops will have an opportunity to fire their individual weapons. Sufficient ammunition has been allotted by the Army to enable the troops to fire all weapons, including pistols, carbines, rifles, machine guns, and other weapons up to the 155mm howitzers. More than 500 vehicles will be used to transport troops to Grayling and in field operations on the military reservation.

Mrs. Ferrari Journeys To France After 27 Years

Leaving for France to visit, for the first time since she left after World War I, is Mrs. Andrew Ferrari of 328 South 15th street. She leaves Escanaba Monday and will proceed to New York and visit her cousin for three days.

On July 11 she will sail aboard the Mauretania for Cherbourg and then travel to the provinces of Lorraine and Luxembourg to see her brother and three sisters.

With her, as per her passport and visa provisions (which required two weeks to come through) Mrs. Ferrari is taking 50 dollars worth of groceries and a few clothes. The ravages and aftermath of war are no secret or matter of speculation for this charming French lady.

During World War I, Mrs. Ferrari worked as conductor on a railroad for two and one-half years. When the war was over, she came to the United States with Andrew Ferrari, an American GI of Italian ancestry who was serving with our troops in France.

Shortly after their arrival in New York the young couple were married in New Jersey where they had relatives. Mrs. Ferrari stated she often thinks of the foreign girls who came to America today and wonder if they are as frightened as she was upon first arriving. At the time of her coming to America Mrs. Ferrari could speak no English. Now she speaks very fluently—with soft French accent.

The Ferraris have eight children, four boys and four girls. Three of the girls work in hospitals in St. Louis, Mo., and one is at home. Two of their sons served in the Army during World War II.

William Ferrari fought in France and while there visited with one of Mrs. Ferrari's sisters. When asked if she spoke French very much in Escanaba, Mrs. Ferrari laughed and said she didn't. Firstly Canadian French is much different and also her husband insists that if one lives in a country and eats their bread and butter they should also speak the language.

Seeing France again has Mrs. Ferrari very excited. Not so much so however, that she does not realize that there will be painful sights to see, now that two wars have clamped down on French culture and piquancy.

Four months will be the extent of her visit and she will then leave the land where she was born, spent her childhood and met her husband, to return to Escanaba. On her return she will sail on the Queen Mary which leaves France October 22.

Her return will be anticipated by many persons. Some whose relatives she will be going to see; others who want to know how such and such a place looks now.

Festival Air Show Hit By Bad Weather

Despite "soupy" weather that made formation flying difficult, six Pioneer Aviation planes of Escanaba presented a scheduled air show yesterday as part of the Hiawathaland festival program.

"Sometimes it was so thick up there the pilots couldn't see the plane next to them," said Fred Senisba, who with Walter Arntzen was co-chairman of the Aviation Day exhibition.

Pilots participating in the Aviation day air show were Allan Brukard, Wilbur DeGrave, John Senisba, Jon Thorin, Arntzen and Sensiba. In addition to formation flying in Piper Cubs, Thorin flew a Stearman through a program of acrobatics.

FESTIVAL ARCHERS COMPETE—Amid the colorful setting of the Escanaba municipal dock greenward with the U. S. The competition will be climaxed by the field archery test over the roving Silver Arrow range at the Escanaba Ski park when they will fire at 14 24-inch targets in simulation of actual hunting conditions.

Bush Country Flying Is Tough For Good Pilot

BY PHIL RICH

Thessalon, Ont.—We are pulling out of here today. No report of this air trip would be complete without a report from the pilot. With flying becoming increasingly popular and many dreaming of air trips to the far north those who plan such a trip may be interested in his findings and reactions.

"Woody" E. F. Bachelder is a good pilot and a careful pilot. I can say that now that I have been a couple of thousand miles with him. He has made some interesting comments here. Come in Woody:

It is unbelievable the respect a fellow in my position can have for the bush pilot after attempting to follow his way, in this awe inspiring, but dangerous flying country. Every plane in the country is equipped with floats. Even though the water spots are untold in number, landing fields cannot be built in this rough country. So all landings must be made on water. A plane is never out of sight of a forced landing area, but many of them would be impossible for takeoff after landing. These small beautiful lakes are all surrounded by high hills and tall virgin timber.

To dismantle a ship and return it to a larger lake would be near to impossible. After realizing the necessity of being able to have large lakes to land in, we flew rather high on all our flights.

Navigation in this country is very hard, for there are no section lines to follow. For a while on our first flight into the bush we were all over the sky in a zig zag fashion, but I soon realized it was necessary to fly by my compass and the journey was better. The lakes which should make wonderful check points for position are difficult to use because of their distorted appearance and many lakes are not on serial charts. High hills and mountains often surrounded them. We were occasionally beyond the lake before we realized just which one it was.

One of the greatest difficulties of flying into these lakes is the inability to see any of the rocks or shoals while on the lakes. This made your heart pound while taxiing or taking off.

The lakes in this area were created at the time of the great glaciers and fragments of the huge boulders are hidden just under the waves. One must circle the strange lakes many times to pick out these obstacles and thoroughly picture them in your mind for future use.

While taxiing if there is doubt have someone stand in the nose door to warn of bad spots ahead. It is best to taxi slowly at all times.

On take off watch out for the high hills which surround these lakes, and if possible take off towards a valley or stream outlet even if it means cross wind take-offs. Of course it is best to land in the larger lakes and never over estimate the airplane's ability to fly you out, for the up and down drafts are very tricky around the mountains.

Watch closely the beaching of your plane. The Seabee does remarkably well on approaching every where because of the ability of the propeller to fully reverse, and help maneuver you into position. We had our difficulties though and we once spent an hour trying to approach a good spot on the shore. We finally gave up, but returned the next day and chopped our way into shore. I have been carrying a grappling hook which has been a great help, but the wind was in a bad direction to use it for fear the wings would hit a tree. Both grappling hook and anchor are too light for use in high winds.

Keep your eye continually on the gas gauge, and never be in too much of a hurry. Get gas at every

ANTI-KNOCK GAS BETTER

Vaporizing and Straining Through Aluminum Ore Renders Good Gas

Kansas City, Mo., (SS.)—Better anti-knock gasoline can be produced by vaporizing the gas and straining it through common aluminum ore, two chemists disclosed at the American Chemical Society's Midwest Regional Meeting here.

G. M. Brooner and C. J. Helmers of the Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, Okla., explained that vaporizing the gasoline and straining it through bauxite crystals removes the sulfur impurities which cause knocking in your car engine. Bauxite is the ore from which most aluminum comes.

The aluminum-bearing ore turns the knock-causing sulfur into hydrogen sulfide gas, the unpleasant smelling vapor which you can sniff from rotten eggs.

Gasoline which has been strained through the bauxite crystals requires less tetraethyl lead, anti-knock compound that is now scarce, the chemists reported.

The new process removes from 75 per cent to 95 per cent of the sulfur from distilled, or straight run, gasoline and from 40 per cent to 60 per cent of the sulfur from gas cracked from petroleum.

Octane number, one measure of the quality of gas, is increased by the new straining process.

Bauxite used in straining the gas becomes contaminated with carbon deposits, but a single batch of the ore will treat from 5,000 to 15,000 barrels of fuel. The cost is less than one cent for each barrel.

Aircraft speeds have increased about 14 miles an hour each year since the Wright brothers hit 31 mph.

Roleo Enters Final Day As U. P. Firemen's Tournament Opens

Record Crowd Attends Roleo On Opening Day

The largest crowd in local logging history attended the World Championship Roleo on the opening day here July 4.

The program at the lagoon followed shortly after a big inter-city parade which saw floats from both Gladstone and Escanaba in the line of march.

SOUND MOVIES

Jack Richardson, cameraman for Paramount News, is here to take sound movies of the roleo. A special platform was erected in the harbor yesterday upon which to set his equipment.

Beautiful weather favored the opening of the celebration and the supporting program which included dog acts by Perry Greene and Cherry Hausvater, swimming and diving by a Minneapolis amateur contingent, archery by the Wilke family, chopping and sewing contests and a number of unscheduled features proved pleasing to the audience.

Yesterday's matches were excellent and although held in continuous rain held many spectators to their seats in the bleachers. The model plane contest was held over a day because of the downpour.

In addition to the regular features, the Gladstone Roleo will play Republic at the Bay Shore diamond this afternoon and this evening Larry will play the Eagles from Negaunee. This game is scheduled for 6:45. Larry's nosed the Silents, a deaf-mute team from Detroit 4-2.

Today's program:
Volunteer Firemen's Day, Morning
 6:00 to 12:00 — Religious services in Gladstone's Catholic and Protestant churches. All visitors are cordially invited to attend churches of their faiths. Directories and directions are conveniently placed.

BAPTIST MEET IN FINAL DAY

Announce Schedule Of Services And Speakers

The Rev. Alfred Holmgren was named to serve as moderator of the annual conference of the Finnish Baptist Mission Unions of America which goes into its final day at the First Baptist church today.

Junior church will be conducted at 10 o'clock with Mrs. Bertil Friberg and guest, Mrs. Toivo Teronen in charge.

At the same hour there will be divine worship conducted by the Rev. Bertil Friberg with the Rev. Emil Nylund of Ebenezer Baptist church, Duluth, as guest speaker.

Evening services at 7:30 o'clock will bring the conference to a close and the Rev. Severin Burnas of Negaunee will officiate and speak.

Name Committee For Ladies' Golf

Mrs. Alfred Valentine is chairman of the committee in charge of arranging the luncheon for Ladies' Day play Thursday at the Golf club. Assisting her will be Mrs. George Prass, Mrs. Irving Jadin and Mrs. Frank Stenac.

Pair Arrested On Disorderly Charge

Dwight Arnesen and Donald Forvilly yesterday paid fines in justice court on disorderly charges. They were arrested in the city park by Michigan state police.

The former is on three years probation after going to circuit court for car theft and breaking and entering. The probation officer is being notified by his parole violation.

Gag Order Clamped On Prison Inquiry To Bolster Morale

Lansing—(P)—Governor Sigler has clamped a rule of silence on all connected with his probe of the state prison of southern Michigan.

Sigler's gag order came after Warden Ralph Benson was quoted over the weekend as saying the prison investigators were disrupting morale at the prison and granting what amounted to disciplinary immunity to inmates who testified before them.

At the same time the Governor ordered Attorney General Eugene F. Black to assume personal command of the investigation to see that morale and discipline is maintained at the prison.

"A statement was purported to have been made that the present investigation was affecting the morale of the prison," Sigler said.

The Governor warned Corrections Director Garrett Heyns and Benson, who were closeted with him and the attorney general, that they and "everyone else connected with this investigation" should not make any statements to the press until all the facts are gathered.

Afternoon, Roleo Bowl
 1:30 — Championship birling matches resumed, chopping and sawing, old-timers' birling, swimming and diving exhibitions, archery exhibitions, retrieving dogs, Chinook dogs, sailboat race-Escanaba to Gladstone, trick and fancy birling, championship birling finals.
 6:00—Army caravan demonstration.

Evening Feature Program
 8:30—Band concert in front of city hall, presentation of awards.

TO BE BATTLE OF CHAMPIONS

Running And Herron To Meet In Semi-Final Match

It will be a battle of champions! For today in the opening semi-final match in the 1947 roleo which is scheduled to get under way at 1 o'clock, Jim Running of Eau Claire, who won the title here in 1942, is scheduled to meet Jim Herron, Kelso, Mich., 1941 champion, who was unable to defend his title in the following year.

In the second semi-final, Eddie Herron, also of Kelso, brother of Jim, will meet Lowell Girard, city, son of the old showman and former champion, Billy Girard.

Battling for the amateur championship for youths under 21 years will be Bob Bizeau and Rex Stowe Jr., both of this city.

Mary Jean Malott of Cornell, Wis., successfully defended her title as Queen of the White Water on the opening day when she defeated Viola Paul of Bear River, Nova Scotia, in straight falls on the number two log. The first fall came in 46 seconds, the second in one minute and five seconds.

Weldon Olson, of Marquette, brother of Marcus Olson, former junior champ, yesterday won the amateur title for youths under 15 when he dunked Tom Cannon of this city. The boys went the three-minute route on the Nos. 1 and 2 logs and then Olson copped the event in straight falls on the No. 3 stick in 12:06 seconds and 10 seconds even.

Running In Running
 There was some excellent birling in yesterday's quarter-finals held during a constant soaking rain.

Jim Running, the champ, eliminated Elmer Swanson of Quilcene, Wash., in a match that went a total of 11:46 and was settled on the number 3 stick. Jim Herron won from Marcus Olson in 9:49.3 but Olson, competing for the first time in the professional class, served notice that he'll be heard from in a very few years. Eddie Herron dunked Harold Fisher of Stillwater, Minn., in 10 minutes, five and nine-tenths seconds.

Probably the feature match of the afternoon was the Lowell Girard-Frank Peloquin duel. The local youth won the first fall from the Fort Francis, Ontario, life-guard, in 2:58 on the No. 2 log. Peloquin evened the match by winning on the No. 3 in 1:23 and then after returning to the No. 2 for the full 3 minutes Girard dunked the Canadian youth in 34 seconds on the No. 3.

Consolation Round
 In the first round Running and Fisher drew byes. Elmer Swanson defeated his brother, Jay, in 1:33 and Jim Herron eliminated Billy Girard in 50 seconds and 40 seconds on the No. 2. Mark Olson defeated George Heideman in 6:30. Joe Thompson failed to appear and Eddie Herron won on a forfeit. Frank Peloquin dunked Ray Heideman twice in 6:13 and Lowell Girard went into the second round by tripping the veteran Ed Ogle of Marquette in 2:27.7.

In addition to the championship matches and the junior championship under 21 years there will be the trick and fancy, old-timers and block turning events.

In the consolation round Billy Girard will meet George Heideman, Ray Heideman will face Ed Ogle and Jay Swanson will meet the number of the Girard-Heideman match.

Briefly Told

Finds Token—Gerrard Klunder, Grand Rapids, came to Gladstone this week to visit relatives and see the roleo. Walking into a local business establishment, Klunder spotted an object on the floor which looked like a dime. Picking it up he found it to be a token used for bus fare in his home city.

Townsend Club—A meeting of the Townsend club is to be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall.

Visit Nova Scotia—Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Skogquist and son, Harold, city, and nephew, Stillman Goodman, Harvey, Ill., returned Monday from a three and one-half weeks vacation tour through Eastern Canada, Gaspe Peninsula, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, through the New England States, to New York and Niagara Falls.

B. of R. T. Auxiliary — The Ladies' Auxiliary to the B. of R. T. will meet at 7:30 Monday night at the home of Mrs. Wesley Ward, 1021 Wisconsin avenue. Mrs. Max Neveaux is the assisting hostess.

WSCS — The WSCS of the Memorial Methodist church will meet at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the Herb Smith cottage at Schaeve's lake. Mrs. Mauritz Brink is the chairman, assisted by the Mmes. Joe Mott, Albert Latimer, Nettie Kee, A. R. Doherty, George Cole and Herb Smith. Anyone wanting a ride may report at the church at 2 and anyone having extra room is also asked to meet at the church.

Girls' Ensemble—The Girls' Ensemble of the Gladstone high school will sing at 2 this afternoon in the council chambers of the city hall. The girls are asked by Irving Johns, director, to meet there shortly before 2.

High School Band—The high school band is asked to appear in uniform at the high school at 6:30 tonight to take part in the parade and concert following the parade.

Smorgasbord Huge Success; Don Feller Tops Smith In Golf

The Smorgasbord at the Golf club July 4 as the club's contribution to the celebration was a big success and was well attended.

In the afternoon Don Feller, U. P. golf champion, defeated Vial Smith in a special match. Feller shot a 37 while Smith got a 41. Also playing in the foursome were Bob Smith, Green Bay, brother of Vial who shot a 39 and John Miller, Milwaukee, who carded a 41.

In the evening was added to the occasion when several Swedish selections were sung by a group of local girls attired in Swedish costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Erickson headed the committee and were assisted by the Mmes. and Msrs. James Looby, Seymour Lewis, Myron Goodman, Charles Green, William Johnson, Gale Westcott, Lewis Empson, Russell Hetrick and Max Neveaux and Mrs. Fern Hall.

GLADSTONE

FINE PROGRAM IS ARRANGED
 Hundreds Of Volunteers Expected To Attend Annual Meet

The 53rd annual Upper Peninsula Volunteer Firemen's tournament opens in Gladstone today and will bring to Gladstone several hundred of the men who devote a portion of their time to protecting homes in their communities.

Registration of firemen will be made at the city hall from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. At 2 there will be a band concert by bands from Gladstone and Gwin. The Gladstone high school girls' ensemble will sing several selections.

The annual meeting also will be held during the afternoon and is expected to be concluded about 4:30. It will begin at 2.

The parade, always a big event in the tournament, will begin at 7. At 8 there will be acts at the lagoon, and at 9 street dancing, a band concert at the city hall and dancing at the Legion hall.

Three bands, those of Gwin, Escanaba and Gladstone, will participate in the parade.

Monday morning at 10 a series of three races will be run off on Minnesota between 9th and 10th and are to be followed by a fire fighting demonstration by Walter F. Gannon, Ann Arbor, of the University of Michigan Extension service.

In the afternoon from 3 to 4:30 there will be water fights and in the evening fire safety instruction of Mr. Gannon and awarding of prizes. At 9 there will be another dance.

Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 are offered for first, second and third in each race.

Tuesday morning there will be three more concluding races held. Races arranged include a five-man tank and ladder race, five-man team equipment race, five-man team hose removal race and a five-man team hose coupling race.

The host committee from the Gladstone volunteer fire department is composed of Fire Chief William Marshall, Wallace Cameron, Walter Tang, William Heslip and Ernest DeHooghe.

Police Investigate Two Car Accidents

An auto driven by Leonard Lehtikangas of Trenary was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Spencer Johnson of Skandia Friday on Highway 67 this side of Trenary. Both were traveling slowly.

Johnson was given a ticket by state police for reckless driving and Lehtikangas also got one, his for having no tail light and driving an auto with defective brakes.

John M. Jack' Forvilly, 221 North Second avenue, city, was ticketed for failure to report a property damage accident and driving without an operator's permit when Michigan state police investigated an accident which occurred several days ago in which Forvilly's auto struck one driven by Louis P. Freter, 4152 Argyle, Chicago.

Damage to Forvilly's auto was estimated at $300; to Freter's $60.

Upper Peninsula Open Tennis Tourney To Continue Here Today

Delayed By Rain, But All Contestants Ready To Play This Morning

A pesky intermittent rain halted all except a few matches in the first postwar Upper Peninsula Open Tennis tournament which got underway here yesterday, but tournament officials announced doggedly that play would continue today and tomorrow morning, if necessary, to complete the Hiawathaland Festival net classic.

Weather permitting, it is hoped that finals in all divisions will be completed by this afternoon, but, in all probability, because of the large number of entries in the men's singles, the semi-finals and finals in that top division will be played tomorrow morning.

All top-ranking players and others defied yesterday's stubborn overcast sky to journey to Escanaba for the opening day of the tournament and, significantly, their intentions of seeing the meet through, meanwhile consoling much-harassed tournament officials for the tough break in weather that came after ideal playing conditions had prevailed on the Fourth of July.

Cloutier Wins Boys' Crown
Harold Cloutier, of Escanaba, yesterday annexed the U. P. boys' singles title by defeating Dick Danielson, also of Escanaba, in the finals. The scores were 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

START AT 9 A. M. TODAY
Men's singles will start at 9 this morning at Royce Park and North Side courts near Webster school, with the semi-finals slated for Monday morning at Ludington Park. Mixed doubles competition will start at Ludington this morning. All contestants are asked to see Belanger or Bill Puckelwartz to verify starting times and places. Belanger is handling Ludington and Puckelwartz is handling Royce and North Side.

Ronald Layman and Jordan Coplan, an Escanaba pair, won the U. P. boys' doubles championship, defeating Cloutier and Danielson in a four-set finale, taking the last three sets, 7-5, 8-6, 6-2 after dropping the opener, 2-6.

Meanwhile, Bill Mikulich, top-seeded Traunik player who is captain of the University of Michigan team, breezed through his opening match with the loss of only one game, downing youthful Lowell Swanson, of Kingsford, 6-0, 6-1.

He was joined in the second round by Fred Albert, Ironwood, who stopped John Chapman, Kingsford, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2; burying Ed Kukuk, of Marquette, who trimmed Wayne Crebo, Escanaba, 6-2, 6-1; Carl J. Olson, Gladstone, who ousted Charley Harvey, Escanaba, 6-3, 6-3, and Leonard "Oakey" Brumm, of Marquette, who slipped past Mike Albert, Ironwood, easily on 6-0, 6-3 sets.

Brumm Vs. Albert
In opening matches involving local players completed Friday afternoon, Stanley Hawkins, Gladstone, ousted Don Villeneuve, Escanaba, 6-3, 6-2; Jim Hall, Ironwood, defeated a fellow Escanaba, William Haines, 6-1, 6-0; Crebo stopped Boyd Peterson, Escanaba, 6-3, 6-2, and Carl Olson and Arne Erickson, of Escanaba, advanced on forfeits, respectively, by Norman Kincaid and Dale Wood, both of Escanaba.

One of the most interesting matches yesterday was the Robert Brumm (Marquette)-Jim Albert (Ironwood) clash, which stood at one-set each and deadlocked 6-6 in the third when interrupted until today by rain. Brumm copped the first, 6-4, and dropped the second, 6-8.

Other matches halted by rain were Bill Anderson (Escanaba)-Tom Gronlund (Iron Mountain), with the former holding the advantage of a first set win, 6-3, and the opener ended with the capable LeRoy Wier, of Waukesha, Wis., and Bud Johnson, Ironwood, Wis., onetime Western Open champion, won the first set, 6-2, and had a 3-0 margin in the second before the rains came.

Others who moved into the second round in men's singles were Stanley Hawkins, Gladstone, a bye; Con W. Lempeis, Marquette, who advanced when Ed Rocheleau, Iron Mountain, withdrew from singles competition, and Dale Rank, also of Marquette, who advanced when Romeo Rocheleau, Ed's father, also withdrew from singles. The Rocheleaus are entered in men's doubles.

Many Good Matches
First round matches in men's singles slated to be played this morning, beginning at 9, are Hal Simpson, Waukesha, Wis., vs. Don Patterson, Ironwood; Don Bleckinger, Oshkosh seeded veteran, vs. Jim Hall, Escanaba, vs. Louis Mikulich, Traunik, and Bob Petrusa, Ironwood, vs. another seeded ace from Wisconsin, Bob Borchardt, of Manitowish, former Wisconsin state champion and one-time University of Wisconsin captain and No. 1 player. Because of the luck of the draw, possibly one of the best matches of the tournament is shaping up in the second round. Borchardt is favored to take

VFW, K-C To Ride Donkeys In 'Softball Game' Today

The comedy attraction of the season, "donkey softball," will be played at 2:15 this afternoon on Memorial Field. The local VFW will ride the donkeys for one side while the K-C will furnish the opposition.

In the preliminary, scheduled for 1 p. m., the K-C will meet Club 314 in a regular National League contest, postponed because of Festival activities last week.

FEATURE GAME TONIGHT

In the feature game at Memorial field tonight, the Kingsford Holy Name nine, Class A softball champion of the U. P., will meet the fast Escanaba VFW aggregation at 8:45. Liberty Loan and Birds Eye will play off a rain-out contest at 7:15 this evening at Memorial field.

No matches were played yesterday in the women's singles and doubles, the men's doubles or the mixed doubles. They will be the same as announced Friday morning.

All players and spectators are asked to determine starting time and place of contests by consulting the master tournament chart which will be posted today at the tennis shack at the Ludington Park concrete courts.

A lot of hilarious fun is in store for fans when the Vets and the Kaysees mount that must-suborn of all beasts, the donkey. Players of both teams will know which way they want to go on a certain play, but the mules may have other ideas. Managers of both teams will be allowed to run on the playing field and help their men to persuade the animals to go in the right direction. George La-Crosse and Al Kidd of the Vets claim they can handle the animals without any trouble. The leaders of the Knights of Columbus team, Fred Savkly and Fritz Provencher plan on bribing the beasts with sweet stuff. Whether such tactics will be allowed is a matter for the umpires to decide.

"Toots" Roman will be the arbiter and it should be interesting to see what methods he uses to prevent the donkeys from stalling. Roman has already predicted that the donkeys will probably make men of themselves before the afternoon is over.

Escanaba Cubs Will Travel To Munising

The Escanaba Cubs will play at Munising in a Tri-county junior league baseball game today, while Gladstone plays at Manistique and Chatham at Nahma in other league games.

Manager All Ness yesterday asked all of the Escanaba Cub players to meet at 11 a. m. at the Wilbert Vault company ready for the trip to Munising.

GLADSTONE AT MANISTIQUE
Gladstone, July 5 (AP)—The Gladstone junior baseball team will clash Sunday with the Manistique juniors at Manistique. The game is scheduled to begin at 1:15.

Players will meet at the city hall at 11 a. m. before leaving for Manistique. Gladstone to date has won one and lost one. Hurling duties will fall on DeMay, Brown or Cole with LaPlante or Butler behind the bat, Manager Gordon Haga said.

Doby Fans As Tribe Loses To White Sox

GAMES TODAY

Gwinn at Escanaba.
Republic at Gladstone.
Manistique at Humboldt.
Munising at Ishpeming.
Negaunee at Trenary.
Marquette at Chatham.

The Escanaba Bears, who shelved the Milwaukee Crescents colored team, 10 to 4, in an exhibition game Friday afternoon, will play Gwinn of the Michigan Rainbow league at the Escanaba diamond at 2:30 this afternoon.

Today's game will wind up the Bears' first round during which they have met all of the teams in the North division. Starting next week, the Bears will meet all south division teams.

Against the colored Milwaukee Crescents Friday, the Bears scored in every inning except the second, fourth and sixth. Milwaukee tied the count at 3-3 in the fourth but the Escanaba team went ahead again in the fifth and were not headed thereafter.

With Gladstone and Munising still pacing the Rainbow league, the Bears are a game out of first place and will need victory today to keep in the thick of the fight. Next week they travel to Munising, where they will have a chance to even up with one of the league leaders.

Jim Fitzpatrick and Jack Beck divided the pitching duties against the Crescents Friday. Fitzpatrick probably will start on the mound today against the Gwinn team, with Ed Brunelle catching. Bob Anderson will be at first, Dick Lough at second, Ed Gauthier at short and Fran Pryal at third. The outfield duties will be divided between Jack Schwalbach, Kip Derouin, George Shomin and Bob L'Houillier.

The line summary of the game Friday:
Milwaukee. 000 301 000—4 5 4
Escanaba. 102 020 23x—10 8 4
Jackson, Waldon and Hamm; Fitzpatrick, Beck and Brunelle.

With Escanaba host to Doc Miller's Gwinn squad, Gladstone, Trenary and Chatham of the southern division also will entertain northern nines. The Redskins are favored to take Republic Sunday, and Trenary and Chatham can be counted on to give a good account of themselves against Negaunee and Marquette, respectively.

Meanwhile Manistique treks to Humboldt to see if it can duplicate Munising's feat last Sunday of knocking off the northern leader by a wide margin. Munising will travel to Ishpeming.

Carlson's Win Junior League's First Half

With Carlson's Grocers the winners of the first half, the second half schedule of the Escanaba Junior Baseball league will open Monday at Royce Park with Cliff's opposing Feldstein at 9:30 a. m., Dinner Bell meeting John's at 1:30 and Carlson's battling the Fair Store at 3:30 p. m.

The league was idle last week because of the Hiawathaland Festival. At the end of the season, a city tournament will be held, and the league will be represented as a U. P. tournament. The first-half winner will meet the second-half winner for the loop championship.

In addition to Monday's schedule, the week's slate follows:

TUESDAY (Webster Park)
9:30 a. m.—Anderson & Bloom vs. Lieuegh's, 1:30 p. m.—Pete's vs. Bert's, 3:30 p. m.—Ferguson's D-X vs. Northern Motor (the latter an exhibition).
WEDNESDAY (Royce Park)
9:30 a. m.—Cliff's vs. Anderson & Bloom, 1:30 p. m.—Carlson's vs. John's, 3:30 p. m.—The Fair Store vs. Dinner Bell.
THURSDAY (Webster Park)
3:30 a. m.—Lieuegh's vs. Feldstein, 1:30 p. m.—Pete's vs. Ferguson's D-X, 3:30 p. m.—Bert's vs. Northern Motors (the latter an exhibition).

YACHTS ACTIVE OVER WEEKEND

Escanaba Yacht Club Cruising Race To Start Monday

Sailing craft in the Escanaba harbor today will continue their program of festival races, with the sixth annual 21-mile racing and cruising division event scheduled to start at 1 p. m. The course runs to Ford River shoals and Peninsula point. At 2 p. m., seagull class boats will have their third elimination race. In the second elimination race Friday the winner was the Shamrock, owned by Jim Moran.

At 9 a. m. Monday, the annual Escanaba Yacht Club's annual cruising race will start off, with the first leg from Escanaba to Ephraim, Wis. Entries in the cruising and racing divisions come from Escanaba, Ephraim, Sturgeon Bay, Menominee and Marinette.

The Cerasus, owned by Don Reynolds, Sturgeon Bay, was the winner of a six-mile universal type race held July 4. On Saturday, winners in the various events were as follows:

Racing division, 12-mile race, Cerasus.
Cruising division, Great Bear, W. T. Davis, Ephraim.
Seagull race to Gladstone and return for the Bissell trophy, won by the Ah-Mie, owned by Lois Sawyer and sailed by John Hebert.

Shea Wins No. 11; Yanks Tip A's, 5-1

New York, July 5 (AP)—Frank Shea, standout rookie righthander of the New York Yankees, stopped the pesky Philadelphia Athletics, 5-1 on three hits today in gaining his 11th win of the year as he kept two setbacks.

The hefty recruit was in command throughout and yielded the A's their lone run in the seventh after two were out when Buddy Rosar doubled home Elmer Valo, who had walked to start the inning.

The Sports Parade

BY JIM WARD

It is gratifying to see the splendid turnout for the U. P. tennis tournament here yesterday, despite the prevailing overcast sky which was quite general throughout the U. P. The Wisconsin aces, Hal Simpson and LeRoy Wier, from Waukesha, weren't far away. They're vacationing at Traunik, home of the Mikuliches. Wier's entry was sent in unheralded but he turns out to be a top-notch, a former Western Open champion, no less.

So put him in your book of favorites along with Bill Mikulich, the Michigan captain; Joe Bleckinger, Oshkosh, Wisconsin's fifth-ranking player, and Bob Borchardt, of Manitowish, former Wisconsin state titlist and onetime University of Wisconsin captain and No. 1 player.

Seemed like good prewar times to see such personages as Romeo and Ed Rocheleau, of Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hammerschmidt, of Marquette, and Dale Rank and his pater, a close follower of the game, here from Marquette.

Ironwood is well represented here, as are Kingsford and Iron Mountain. In fact, with the exception of the famed tennis-playing Lovells of Humboldt, who are greatly missed, it is well nigh a prewar tennis tournament gathering.

There are several good matches on tap today, and they'll get better, of course, as the meet progresses, but personally, the one we have our eye on in early-round play is the second-round clash looming in men's singles between this man Wier, dean of men at Carroll college, and Borchardt, head-seeded player.

Since Wier came here to heralded, he was not seeded and the luck of the draw pitted him in the lower bracket with Borchardt.

Meanwhile, we give a vote of thanks of Chuck Sligh Jr., of Holland, Mich., and his grand team of water skiers, who undoubtedly were one of the highlights of the festival. Their show was excellent. It was a treat to see such accomplished performers as Chuck, Bob Sligh, his brother; Chuck's son, Chuck III; Mort Roberts, and the lovely Irene Boer, in action, to say nothing of Lew Withey III and the rest of the gang.

Chuck was a riot in his jitterbug routine, and some of the rest of the team acts were Irene riding on Bob's shoulders and the quartet going over the floating jump together. That takes plenty of nerve.

Incidentally, Sligh troupe, which is composed of amateurs all, will next perform at the tenth annual Oconto, Wis., water carnival July 16-20.

The Oconto bigwigs had Claude Tobin, Jr., in tow yesterday and were rounding up all the publicity data we've been using on the water skiers the last two months.

Fishing Contest Will End Tonight

Competition for the biggest fish caught during the Hiawathaland festival will continue to midnight tonight, it was announced yesterday by James Rouman, chairman of the festival fishing and fly and bait casting committee.

Attractive prizes will go to the fishermen who bring the largest fish in walleye, pike, bass, northern pike, perch or trout classes to the official weighing station at the Johnson Boat Livery at the Escanaba yacht basin. There are no entry fees.

Mich. Tech Honors Two Escanaba Boys

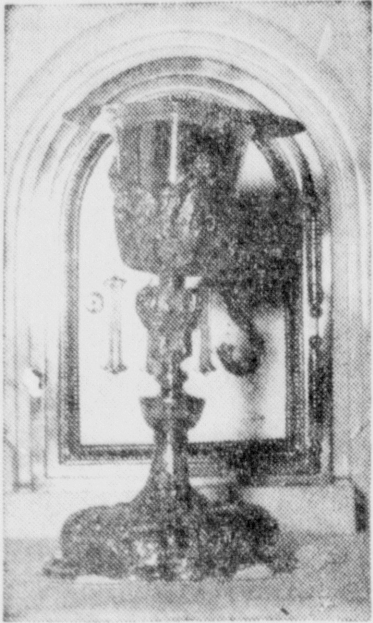

Houghton—Two graduates of Escanaba high school were recently honored at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. Arne E. Erickson of 303 N. 18th St., was placed in Blue Key fraternity. Blue Key is a service fraternity for outstanding student leaders only, committed to a program of service for building student life and welfare, and promoting the best interests of Michigan Tech. Students are chosen for campus leadership and scholastic abilities.

Erickson, a senior electrical engineering student, is a member of Tau Beta Pi and Kappa Delta Psi social fraternity. Norman L. Kincaid of 912 Third avenue south, was pledged to Tau Beta Pi, an honorary engineering fraternity which is recognized throughout the engineering world for its high standards. Members are selected according to scholarship and leadership. Norman is also a senior specializing in electrical engineering.

Bishop Baraga's Chalice Will Be Be Used Today

Von Sr. K. K. Apostol, Majestat
FRANZ JOSEPH I, Kaiser von Oesterreich.

Such is the inscription read on the above pictured Chalice, the gift of Franz Joseph I, Kaiser of Austria, to Frederic Baraga, first Bishop of the Diocese of Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie. A smaller inscription on the base of the chalice tells us that it was made by the royal engraver in Vienna in 1854. This chalice was used by Bishop Baraga when offering Holy Mass in his last years as our beloved Bishop. It is to be used again today, at the offering of the Holy Sacrifice at the Escanaba Athletic Stadium, during the Solemn Field Mass marking the Holy Name Rally.

A close look at its engraving will show it to bear, on the cup, three delicate engravings picturing the The Agony in the Garden, the Scourging at the Pillar and the Crowning with Thorns. On the base three more engravings picture the Carrying of the Cross, the Crucifixion and the Resurrection.

Details Of New Ford Pension Plan Revealed

Detroit, (AP)—Richard T. Leonard of the CIO United Auto Workers has estimated that the pre-arranged Ford Motor Co. pension plan would enable a $200-a-month production worker to retire at half pay after 30 years.

Leonard, vice president of the UAW-CIO and director of its Ford department, revealed major details of the pension plan, the first of its kind in a major automotive producing plant.

The tentative pension agreement, announced Friday, supplements a seven cent hourly wage boost granted 110,000 Ford production workers.

Leonard estimated that 95 per cent of these employees are eligible to participate in the pension plan from its outset. The remainder would become eligible after an unspecified number of months with the firm.

He said retirement age had not been agreed upon but probably would be set between 55 and 65.

"A Ford worker earning $200 a month would contribute about $1,000 in 30 years and would receive $100 a month at retirement," Leonard asserted. "If the same worker were to purchase an individual annuity to pay him $55 a month for life it would cost him about $9,000."

The average Ford worker, with the seven cent increase, would make about $1.46½ an hour, or about $234 per month on the basis of a full 40-hour week.

Federal Social Security was taken into account by Leonard in figuring the eventual pension payments.

The company did not comment on the working of the pension plan. Leonard said it provides the following:

1. On retirement, each Ford worker will receive one per cent of his pay times the number of years service, in addition to Federal Social Security. The same credit will be given for past as well as future service, building up a pension fund for workers already employed for many years.

2. In the event of death, all employee contributions, plus interest, will be payable to the employee's beneficiary.

3. Each worker will have "full vested rights in his contribution and partial vested rights in that of the company."

The plan, retroactive to last Jan. 1, would become effective with the signing of the proposed agreement which must be ratified by Ford's UAW-CIO employees.

The union estimated that the pension plan would cost Ford

Brother, Sister Meet Here First Time In 20 Years

The Hiawathaland festival was responsible for the reunion of a brother and sister after 20 years' separation.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson, of Roscoe, Ill., decided to come to Escanaba to see the festival, and as a result Mr. Anderson saw his sister, Mrs. Christina Asp, 1307 North 16th street, Escanaba, for the first time in 20 years.

Bob Bancroft To Be Lions Speaker On Monday Evening

Bob Bancroft of the John B. Rogers Producing Co., who has been pageant director of the Hiawathaland Saga, will be the speaker at the regular meeting at 6:45 Monday evening in the Sherman hotel. Francis T. Roomney is in charge of the program.
